The Editor's column

By STUART R. PADDOCK

A southside Palatine resident told us this week that he does not mind so very much the birds which have invaded his trees, as he does their failure to keep in tune.

Trustee Cosby has suggested that those birds can be driven off if certain recordings are played on a public address system. The trustee is hunting for the records.

Complaining citizens were promised the aid of the firemen who were directed to apply the water treatment. The birds seem to relish the shower baths. They are still very much in evidence — over the air and on the walks beneath the trees.

Uncle Sam is having a heck of a time keeping up with the growth of this area. He is seeking additional postal quarters in Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights and Palatine. Barrington has a building on the way.

They tell us that the Mt. Prospect office is so crowded that employees sorted the parcel post the other day out in the back yard.

It is always darkest just before the dawn. Plans for Mt. Prospect's new office were approved this week. It will be erected east of the municipal building.

Are there less suckers today than in other years? We mean those who get a kick out of slot machines. The internal revenue reports that the 131 stamps purchased last year have dropped to 87 in suburban Cook county.

It is okay with us if U.S. takes a census to discover how many persons are holding down 2 jobs. Just so they will not attempt double taxation.

A real solution would be cutting down the income tax so dad and mother could stay home nights with their family.

We have often been told that the bigger the man, the greater the courtesy that will be shown. Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Burden of Palatine will attest to that fact. They sent a wedding anniversary greeting to President and Mrs. Eisenhower. They received this reply:

"The President joins me in expressing our gratitude and appreciation for the warm message which you sent us on our fortieth wedding anniversary. We shall long remember your thoughts of us. (Signed) Mamie Dowd Eisenhower."

We did not know until we spent 2 hours with President Lindheimer of Arlington Jockey Club the other day what a mammoth institution it has become.

It is a city within a city. Provision is made for the health, entertainment and well being of the thousands—some who are there for only a day, others for the full 36 days of racing.

Beneath that grandstand we found a 9 bed hospital. There is a trailer court where the families of trainers, and jockies and their children have ample space for home living.

Recreation facilities are outstanding. No city police department could be operated more efficiently.

The last of a series of articles concerning the race track appears in this issue. Since their publication, residents of Arlington, Rolling Meadows and Palatine have a better understanding of the City within a City that is their next door neighbor.

Since we are currently involved in nearly a quarter million dollar expansion of our newspaper plant, we were particularly interested in a New York Times editorial on the "country weeklies."

Exclaimed The Times:

"Perhaps 25 years ago scarcely anybody thought that in 1956 there still would be more than 9,000 weekly newspapers. But few persons then foresaw the great surge to suburbs that occurred between then and now.

"People who once read only metropolitan dailies find themselves—once having moved into the suburbs—reading their dailies and a weekly, too. The reason is pretty obvious.

"The suburbanite's daily newspaper continues to give him the foreign and metropolitan news he requires to understand—in part, anyway—what is going on in the world, nation, state and city. But living in the suburbs, this reader is not really of it. Home is where the heart is, and his heart is in the suburbs; his weekly is his 'home' newspaper.

"His daily paper will tell him what President Eisenhower said yesterday and what his plans are for tomorrow, what Messrs. Stevenson and Kefauver are going to do next or what is happening in Cyprus.

"But it does not—cannot—always tell him what his county, township, or village officials propose to do about schools or taxes or both. The metropolitan daily may omit (inadvertently) the news that felling of the old elm on Suburbia's South st. is being vigorously opposed, but the weekly may record it, properly, on page 1.

"The weekly newspaper will keep its readers informed concerning proposed zoning changes—a warm subject, as mass suburban projects increase and as old residents of perhaps 10 years standing strive to retain at least a semblance of rustic life amid expanding commercial developments.

"The average suburbanite is not likely to find his name in the metropolitan daily—but here is where the weekly excels: it is filled with names.

"The weekly's presses may not always turn out pages with metropolitan polish, but as long as people have names there will be—we hope—the weekly newspaper."

SO DO WE!

Sheriff's Raid Ends In Riot At Carnival

Weekend Bandit Holds Up Arlington Finance Office

Household Finance corporation was held up and robbed of "$200 to $300" Saturday, only 33 days after the firm opened for business at 8 E. Northwest highway, Arlington Heights.

Manager L. J. Nau was opening the office about 8:30 a.m. when the stick-up occurred. As he walked up the stairs to the second floor entrance he was followed by a man.

"Near the top of the stairs the man pulled out a gun and told me to open the door," said Nau. "After we got inside he made me open the safe in an inner office and had me turn my back to him while he took out the cash in the safe.

"HE ORDERED ME into a washroom at the rear and told me to stay there until 9 a.m., continued Nau. "I didn't argue with him. I stayed put."

Several minutes before 9 a.m. Nau heard a noise and left the washroom. Apparently the noise was made by the approach of a clerk in the office who ordinarily arrives shortly before 9. She is Miss Frances Kuhn, 18, of 326 E. Cypress, Arlington Heights.

Nau, 29, an HFC employee for 7 years, described the robber as about 35, medium height and build, wearing a tie and white shirt and blue trousers and dark blue sunglasses. Nau said the man held a handkerchief at his face. According to Nau, the man carried a .38 cal. revolver.

"THE ROBBER knew the office layout well and appeared calm and collected at all times," recalled Nau.

Nau, who lives at 3004 Swallow, Rolling Meadows, moved here from Waterloo, Ia., in November.

The second-story loan office opened in a new building June 18.

Police said there were no witnesses to the flight of the well-dressed robber nor any description of any car he may have driven.

Illinois Bell Breaks Ground For Building

Illinois Bell Telephone Co. Wednesday broke ground for a $790,000 accounting office building on Sigwalt st. between Vail and Highland in Arlington Heights.

Manager Robert E. Kozeliski gave silver-colored shovels to Mayor Goedke, and Everett Lindgren, president of the Chamber of Commerce, who turned the first shovel at the site.

THE ACCOUNTING office will process the monthly bills for about 175,000 customers in the Elgin, Evanston and Waukegan districts of the company. These districts include about 40 communities served by Illinois Bell.

District revenue accountant C. A. Cardwell, who is in charge of the office, said the building will be 2 stories high and will take about a year to complete. The building will be of modern design and of reinforced concrete construction, with face brick exterior and will be air conditioned throughout. Besides office quarters and space for office machines, it will include an employee cafeteria.

ENGINEERS WILL locate the building on the property so that 40 parking spaces can be provided on a paved lot.

The Dahl-Stedman Co. of Chicago has been awarded the general contract.

Nike Chief Issues Appeal

Paddock Publications has received from Lt. DeSimone, adjutant of the 86th AAA missile battalion, such an urgent appeal that it appears on the front page this week.

The Arlington Heights nike station is being doubled in manpower and there are 50 men who need living accommodations for their families. It is the responsibility of DeSimone to find them. Adjacent area is preferred but any home within driving distance will be acceptable—any area covered by Paddock Publications.

YES, SOME of them have children, also rentals must be in reason. He is asking the cooperation of civic-minded citizens to help find those homes or apartments.

The phone of the adjutant's office will not be found in the directory, but here it is: CLearbrook 5-5536.

The Other Side Of The Tracks Isn't Cheap!

Arlington Heights will spend an estimated $34,165 in motor fuel tax funds to move a traffic signal from one side of the tracks to the other.

THE SIGNAL on the north side of the tracks at the east edge of State rd. will be taken down and relocated on a new signal post erected immediately south across the tracks.

The relocation is part of the project to give the village automatic crossing gates.

RECENT revisions of the original plan cut the number of signals to be erected on the south side of the tracks from 2 to 1 and called for construction of a new cable conduit underneath the tracks.

These revisions have caused the original estimate of $12,100 to shoot up to the above figure. State highway engineers requested the revisions.

Dinner To Kick Off Realty Organization

Ninety-six real estate sales people from 21 realtor member offices will kick-off the new M-A-P multiple listing service with a dinner Monday at 7 p.m. It will be held at Jack Gunnell's restaurant.

It is expected all realty salesmen in Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights, Palatine and Prospect Heights area will attend. This new organization will be effective August 1.

Multiple listing service will give each family, who lists a home for sale with one of the member realtors, the services of 21 member firms with a total of 96 sales persons.

Salesman, 52, Suffers Brutal Beating, Robbed

An Arlington Heights man who accepted a ride from a stranger in Milwaukee last week is in an Elgin hospital recovering from a brutal beating.

MILWAUKEE police said that Leslie F. Thompson, 52, of 914 N. Patton was slugged and robbed of a wallet containing $40 by an unknown assailant.

According to a story in a Milwaukee newspaper, Thompson's injuries were a possible skull fracture, a split left ear and multiple head cuts that required 36 stitches. Thompson was treated at a Milwaukee hospital.

The account of the incident put together by Milwaukee police was this: Thompson, who was in Milwaukee on business, left a downtown tavern near closing time early Thursday to return to his hotel. A man, 20 to 25 and driving an old Cadillac, offered him a ride and Thompson accepted.

SEVERAL MILES from the center of the city the driver stopped and indicated to Thompson that he was to get out. Thompson stepped from the car. He said he remembered nothing after that until he found himself on the ground, bleeding profusely.

Police said Thompson went to a near-by house to obtain help.

Free Polio Shots At Resurrection

Resurrection hospital, 7435 W. Talcott, Chicago, will administer 2 shots of Salk polio vaccine free of charge beginning tomorrow.

The program will continue through August 31 and anyone from the age of 6 months to 20 years is eligible for the free shots. Expectant mothers are also eligible.

AT RESURRECTION the shots will be given at the hospital clinic, which is open Mondays and Fridays, 9 a.m. to noon. There is a 2-week interval between shots.

A hospital official said the hospital is co-operating in the community-wide immunization program in response to a plea from Dr. Karl A. Meyer, president of the Chicago Medical society.

Light Vote Cast In School Election

Patrons of school district 25 in Arlington Heights did not show much interest in the special election Saturday held for the purpose of validating its tax rate. There were 44 "yes" votes and 1 "no." It authorizes a rate of 71c.

The second election to raise the rate to 92c will be held August 11.

Village Acknowledges 'Twenty Grand Effort'

Arlington Heights chamber of commerce received this week from the village of Arlington Heights an acknowledgement of their pledge of over $20,000 to the off-street parking fund.

The letter read in part:

"THE READY response of certain local business interests to participate charitably in the off-street parking program is indeed gratifying to your village board.

"Please keep your parking committee intact and in touch with this and other efforts to solve and serve the best interests of this flourishing business center.

"Thank you again — your's really is a 'Twenty Grand Effort'."

Elm Blight Discovered In Scarsdale

A state laboratory report Tuesday confirmed that Dutch elm disease has reached Arlington Heights.

The diseased and partly dead tree is in a parkway in front of the Russell Colvin home at 605 S. Bristol in Scarsdale.

THE REPORT was returned to local nursery man Raymond M. Gosch, who suspected infection in the ailing elm and sent a sample branch to the Springfield laboratory.

A few Dutch elms is the vicinity and throughout the village have been sprayed and trimmed of dead wood, the twin preventive measures against the disease, but the village does not yet have its own equipment for these tasks.

Last week the trustees authorized taking of bids for a sprayer and tree sanitation work but it may be some time before the village program can get into operation.

WITHIN the last month confirmed cases of the disease have been found in Des Plaines, Palatine and Carpentersville. A second sample of a suspected local case is under study at Springfield.

Experts stress that removal of dead wood and spraying with a DDT mixture are equally necessary for prevention. There is no cure. Any tree once infected eventually dies. The elm bark beetle carries the disease.

Gambling Devices Seized, 2 Arrested In Wheeling Raid

Wheeling Days 1956 will be talked about for years to come.

County sheriff's police brought a near-riot end to the 3-day carnival Sunday night when they raided the festival, confiscated gambling equipment and arrested 2 volunteer workers on charges of gambling.

Wheeling Days is a fund-raising project of the fire department and chamber of commerce.

CONFISCATED were a "Big-Six Wheel" and a "Chuck-a-Luck" dice game.

Arrested were Hanz Mueller, 290 Milwaukee ave., and Marion Huber, Birch st. They were booked by county police on gambling charges and freed on $125 bond each.

Trial will be held Saturday in Arlington Heights village hall before judge Walter P. Dahl.

Local public opinion blames disorderliness by county police for the chaos that developed shortly after police, responding to an anonymous phone tip, arrived to confiscate the equipment.

Police reports state that all was in order until spectators began heaving rocks and bottles at squad cars.

An estimated 4,000 persons were milling around the carnival area on Wolf rd. when the police arrived.

POLICE CAPTAIN Norman Hawthorne, who led the raid, gave the following version of the episode:

"I received an anonymous phone call about 8 p.m. Sunday. The caller, who refused to give his name, said there was gambling going on at the Wheeling Days carnival.

"I was in civilian clothes. I went there myself and saw what we term "cash for cash" gambling going on in 2 booths. After a half hour I left and called the station (Milwaukee ave.) to send 2 squad cars. When the men arrived we confiscated the gambling devices and arrested 2 men who were operating them.

"We left one squad car at the carnival grounds to guard the "Big-Six Wheel" which was too large to carry in the car, and we took the prisoners back to the station.

"While at the station we were radioed that the car left at the carnival needed help, and I sent reinforcements. I remained at the station where a number of people interested in the matter had come."

Hawthorne said that the raid on Wheeling Days was not a "special case." He said county police have made similar raids recently including one last week in Burnham, in southern Cook county, where arrests were made.

"Sheriff Lohman (Joseph D.) has made it clear that he will tolerate no double standard to gambling," Hawthorne said.

NUMEROUS complaints have been voiced by Wheelingites that police were unnecessarily rough and used profane language while confiscating the gambling equipment and making arrests.

One Wheeling woman told Paddock Publications that she was standing near a squad car when a bottle was thrown at it. "The policeman got out of the car, pulled his gun and pointed it at me. My husband came up and told him 'That's my wife you're pointing that gun at,' and he put the gun away."

County police chief Clifford J. Dreyer, quoting reports filed by police in on the raid, said apparently all was in order until someone threw a rock through the windshield of a squad car sent to help the car left behind to guard the "Big-Six Wheel." Before that the said, there had been only good-natured abuse and wisecracks from spectators.

Police reports state that after the rock went through the windshield, spectators began a barrage of cans and bottles at the cars.

The car that remained to guard the wheel was demobilized by 3 flat tires. Someone had removed the caps and valves, police said.

Police deputy Z. Lewis Papp reported some scuffling between police and members of the Wheeling fire department.

No injuries were reported.

MOST WHEELINGITES present opinioned that county police handled the situation "very poorly."

One Wheeling Days official said, "We weren't doing anything we haven't been doing for years. Had we been given any kind of warning we would have cut it out immediately. It's a shame that this incident had to mar an otherwise very successful Wheeling Days celebration."

Shoes, Coffee Pots Building Hospital

Old shoes, worn-out coffee pots and toys no longer needed are building the proposed Northwest Comunity hospital.

Recently the children in the vicinity of W. Campbell st. staged a rummage sale to benefit the hospital fund. It was held in the backyard of the William Coleman home, 212 W. Campbell by the "Helpin' Kittens" club.

The hospital hope chest is now $15 richer.

Seek State Action For New Route Plan For Illinois 83

A concentrated effort is being made by residents of Mount Prospect and Prospect Heights to eliminate the detour of route 83 through those 2 communities.

Tied up with the project is recognition by the state highway department of that part of Palatine's master plan which would move route 14 and 53 east of the village.

Route 83 from its present break at Higgins road would be routed over route 72 to Rohlwing road, (route 53), thence north to rejoin present 83 at Long Grove.

TIED INTO the picture is the extension of Euclid ave., by the Cook county highway department through the south border of Arlington Jockey Club property (north of Rolling Meadows), to Rohlwing road. This project is on the Cook county 1957 road building program.

Arlington Heights is expected to join its sister towns in asking the state and county to jointly advance the road building project, which would be the first use in many years of state funds upon a major road project in northwest Cook county.

President Lindheimer of the Arlington Jockey Club told Paddock Publications last week: "We are extremely conscious of the traffic problems of the local areas. We are strong for anything that can be done to help relieve congestion. We are interested in Euclid ave. coming through on the south end of our property. It will be a wonderful thing if Euclid is continued. We want to cooperate."

Route 53 will take on a new importance with the completion of the Northwest toll road. The first cloverleaf west of O'Hare Field will be at route 53 and tremendous traffic can be expected, making its present route through Palatine further objectionable and a safety hazard for the 200 school children who cross that highway.

REPRESENTATIVES of Mount Prospect and Palatine, accompanied by W. J. Carroll, Park Ridge newspaper editor and candidate for the legislature, called upon James Tuthill, chief district highway engineer, at his Chicago office.

Mayor Olsen of Palatine and Theodore Lams, Mt. Prospect mayor, were accompanied by Daniel Wachs, Palatine trustee, editor Stuart R. Paddock, Harold Ricklefs, president chamber of commerce, Mt. Prospect, Robert Starck, and Edward Hofert, Mt. Prospect residents.

Tuthill was told that the extension of route 83, originally Tri-State highway and later Kingery highway, had been delayed 25 years, entirely too long; that as late as 2 years ago, developers had been refused clearance through Arlington Heights.

During the last 12 months, building operations have made impracticable the extension of the highway any way near its original route.

Mayor Olsen urged acceptance of Palatine's master plan which would provide a route for the 3 highways outside of any municipality through an area now free from building development.

TUTHILL admitted to his visitors that the plan had merit and promised to refer it to his engineers.

In the meantime, the 4 municipalities and various civic bodies are expected to present a brochure of recommendations and maps to Gov. Stratton, the state highway department and Cook county.

At present route 83 and 53 unite at Long Grove. The added distance for through traffic would be only 2 miles.

Your Arlington Stores Have All Your Family's Vacation Needs

High School Budget Rises 35 Per Cent Over 1955

Arlington high's "yardstick" will be a third longer this year.

A tentative budget for Arlington high school for the fiscal year that began July 1 is about 35 per cent higher than the previous budget.

The 1956-57 budget total is $1,815,550, compared with $1,288,205 last year.

The increase amounts to $527,345.

A public hearing on the budget will be held August 13 at a regular meeting of the board of education of district 214.

"The rise is in line with a jump in enrollment," said school business manager John W. Schaff.

Approval of the budget as is would not necessarily mean that the entire amount would be spent, Schaff emphasized.

"Only 70 per cent of the amount appropriated for the educational fund last year was spent and the figure for the building fund was only 68 per cent," he said. "We can't spend it all because we can't count on collecting tax money on time."

Income for the next fiscal year is estimated at $1,844,714. This exceeds estimated expenses by about $29,000. About $149,000 is carryover from last year's surplus.

ALL EXCEPT $36,700 of the income will come from state or county tax money in one fund or another. The $36,700 will flow for lunches, athletics, book rental, rental of school facilities and night school fees.

The total budget breaks down into amounts of $1,489,550 for educational fund expenses and $326,000 for building fund expenses.

Bulk of the education fund increase will go for additional faculty salaries and equipment for the new wings on the south end of the school.

BIGGEST ITEMS in the educational category are instruction (teacher salaries, library and books), $975,450; administrative, legal and accounting services, $96,700; auxiliary services (transport, health, lunches, athletics and field trips), $148,700, and new equipment, $175,000.

Major outlays in the building fund are $100,000, mostly to pay for the addition just being completed; $126,000 for operation and maintenance and $80,000 for new cafeteria and building fixtures in the addition.

Schaff saw one gleam of light in the budget:

"A good deal of the equipment we will buy this year can be moved into Prospect high school when it opens a year or so from now."

SAVE 25 To 50% OFF
THE ORIGINAL PRICE

Frankly, we gambled on the weather and lost. Now, with two months of warm weather still ahead, we must clear out our greatest inventory of summer fashions and spring and fall apparel. Prices have been literally slashed to the bone on all items not manufacturer price-controlled.

Ladies' Suits—Would you dare to offer us half-price on spring-fall wool suits regularly priced from $45.00 to $132.95? You would? Good, take your pick because these are marked 50% OFF. If you don't believe it, come in and look at the price tag.

Coats—All wool—such names as Sycamore and Kennie Originals—shorties, 36-inch, and full-length—all prices down to the very bone—a full-styled Sycamore, for example, regularly $65.00, SLASHED to only $43.00. A third off on all ladies coats.

Sub-Teens—(Send her back to school looking like a princess) $17.95, SLASHED to only $9.00.

Dresses—blends, linens, cottons—Misses, Womens, Juniors, and half sizes—we're loaded with styles, colors, and sizes. $22.95 SLASHED to $13.88; $12.95 SLASHED to $7.89; $7.95 SLASHED to $5.00.

Lingerie—Special counter just loaded with lingerie—you pick out what you want and we'll cut the price in half—yes, 50% OFF ON EVERYTHING.

Infants', Children's Wear—Come on in and look around—we can just mention a few values. Boys corduroy matched sets (jacket and overall), regularly $10.95, SLASHED to only $6.99. Perky little children's dresses—from toddlers all the way up—1/3 to ½ off—here's an example: Orlon permanent pleated dress, regularly $10.95, SLASHED to only $5.00. $2.50 T-shirts for girls, SLASHED to $1.89. Nylon babe frocks—regularly $3.95, SLASHED to only $2.89. You name it, we've got it at a tremendous saving to you.

Now, if that isn't enough to get you in our store, listen to this: All summer millinery (and there must be warmer weather ahead) SLASHED 50%—across the board. Accessories—gloves, jewelry, belts—reduced to go—pronto.

Besides wanting to clear our stocks, we sincerely want you to enjoy your summer months in style—styles with a "beg-to-buy" price. Come in and look (we can't begin to enumerate the savings here); come in and buy. But HURRY, while the wide choice of styles, colors, and sizes lasts (and we aren't making any promises).

Round 'n About Westgate

Out of Town Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Verbeck of Moline have spent the past week visiting their son and daughter-in-law, Marv and Arlene Verbeck of 1511 Euclid.

Fran and Bill Johnston, 1505 Euclid, have had Fran's sister, Mrs. Robert Peterson, and her 2 here for a week's visit. The Petersons are from Highlands, N. J. and have been enjoying their stay here in Westgate.

Jeanne and Ed Huster, 1411 Fremont, have Ed's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Huster Sr. of Chicago, visiting them for a short stay. Ed is on vacation and he and his father always set a day aside for a fishing excursion.

Miss Marge Bergstrom of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla. was here for a 3-day visit in the home of Arlene and Fred Hauth, 512 Yale.

Vacations

Ginny and Jim Blocki, 419 Yale, and their 2 children have just returned from a 2-week vacation in Albert Lea, Minn.

Home from a 2-week vacation is Fred Granis, 1500 Fremont. Fred attended Camp Napowan, children, Christine and Bobby, Wild Rose, Wis., boy scout camp. Eight other scouts from his troop also attended during this period. They were accompanied by their scoutmaster, Frank Webster.

A weekend trip to the Wisconsin Dells was a scenic spot for Mary Margaret and Ernie Snoyer, 1503 Fremont. Though time was short, the Snoyers saw the Indian ritual dances and went on the boat trip through the Dells.

Happy Birthday

Gayle Granis became 3 years old July 23 and had 16 friends in for lunch to help make the occasion a merry one. Also on hand to help celebrate were her grandmother, Mrs. F. Hager, and aunt, Mrs. Lorraine Mastrogany, along with her 2 brothers and 2 cousins.

Farewell

Tina and Dan Hegyan, 1504 Fremont, and their 3 children left Tuesday for their new home in the Cleveland area. Friends wish them luck and hope they find their new community as pleasant as Westgate. Their young daughter, Marla, will celebrate her second birthday July 25 in new surroundings.

Please

Once again this reporter has been asked to caution residents to drive slowly in our streets. This past week a car made the turn off Fremont into Yale ave. so fast that the car was partially out of control and succeeded in knocking over an elm tree on the Johnson lawn and uprooting a good portion of the grass. The driver then sped on through the stop sign at Euclid before anyone could obtain the license number. Had there been children on the parkway, the results would hardly have been pleasant. The driver of this car was in all probability a non-resident of Westgate, but exercise care on the streets and keep them safe.

A New Village Master Plan In Installments Is Urged

A committee Monday recommended that Arlington Heights acquire a new village master plan on the installment plan.

William F. Hessler, head of a plan commission committee surveying the master plan proposal, made the recommendation.

He urged that the plan commission initially hire a planning consultant for one of the 3 steps involved in drawing up a master plan. According to Hessler's classification, the first step would be the collection of data.

Getting information is the most important part of any master plan," declared Hessler.

The committee did not spell out exactly what the second and third steps would consist of. However, generally they would involve evaluation of the data and drafting of a plan calculated to satisfy the future needs of the village regards transportation, industries, zoning, housing and the like.

Parts of proposals given to the Plan commission by 2 consultants were contained in the committee report. No action was taken by the plan commission on the report, other members of the commission feeling that it would be helpful for the committee to talk with the planners, Evert Kincaid and Carl Gardner, before proceeding.

There were minor differences of opinion among commission members as to whether a professional consultant should do his own evaluating of data collected or whether the evaluation should be a "joint expression" of the Plan commission and a consultant.

IN OTHER business the plan commission:

Refused approval on a 10-lot residential plat near Belmont and Oakton because the lots were undersized.

Sent to committee a plat of 7 homes outside the village limits submitted by Eldon L. Trendel and Associates. Trendel withdrew a 25-lot plat previously submitted for approval. The new plat contains 7 half-acre lots on the north side of Thomas street between Chicago and Yale. As the south half of Chicago is in the village, Trendel did not offer to improve the north half of Chicago up to village standards.

Reecived and sent to committee a plat for 25 lots scattered throughout are area bounded by Oakton, Frederick, State and the west lot line of homes on the west side of Haddow. The subdivider is M. Edward Smith, a Des Plaines realtor.

Class Of '91 Trio Holds A Reunion

George K. Volz, one of the 3 living male members of the Arlington Heights elementary school class of 1891, was host Thursday evening to his classmates, Theodore Militzer, Arlington Heights, and William Muller of Las Vegas.

Also guests were John C. Sigwalt and Richard Jahn, who have been close friends of the other 3 down through the years.

The combined ages present that evening were 384. Muller and Militzer are each 80 years; Volz, 78; Sigwalt, 77, and Jahn, 69.

IT WAS A GAY evening for the 5 at Behm's restaurant, Wheeling, which is the same eating place where many meals have been enjoyed the past 50 years by those present that evening.

There were many reminiscenses told that evening. The microfilm of Paddock Publications, under date of June 27, 1941, had this to say about the original graduation 65 years ago.

"Invitation and program was printed on one side of an ornamental decal edge card. In the center was the cut of the American eagle bearing in his bill a banner reading, 'E Pluribus Unum.'

"Each graduate delivered an oration, thesis or an essay. The only difference between them was in the title, but there were many weighty national questions that were settled in the commencement program in those days."

THE TITLES of the essays given by the 3 living graduates were — George Volz, "Railroad Monopolies Rule This Land."

The thesis given by Theodore Militzer was entitled "Industry, Frugality and Perseverance."

William C. Muller was one member of a debating team on the question "Resolve that the Present High Tariff is Injurious to Our Industries."

MR. VOLZ tells us that Professor Hess, the school principal, displayed all the dignity that was expected in those days of the man at the head of the local schools who always wore a stove pipe hat and frock coat. Many a snowball was thrown at that hat during the winter. If punishment was necessary, the victim was sent out into the school yard to cut the switch with which he would be whipped.

It is believed that in addition to the 3 men, there are 3 women still alive of the original class of 13. They are: Marie C. Muller, Mrs. Wallace Beardsley, Monrovia, Cal., and Mrs. David Agate, Orland, Ill.

Back Yard Carnival Nets $12

Five Arlington Heights youngsters pooled their talents last week to stage a benefit back yard carnival which netted $12 cash for the Northwest Community Hospital fund.

The carnival, staged July 18 at 832 S. Chestnut st., included 2 ball throw games, a test of strength, a wheelbarrow and rocket ship ride, and lemonade, kool aid, popcorn, fudge, jaw teasers, and cookies.

THE BOYS, in deciding upon a carnival, agreed that proceeds should go to aid the proposed hospital center. They presented their donation to Carl Hammerl, treasure of the hospital, Thursday.

Sponsors of the carnival were Richard Lonergan, 12, of 832 S. Chestnut; John Embrey, 11, of 216 W. Orchard; Gary Spencer, 11, of 838 S. Chestnut; Roland Oberg, 11, of 821 S. Chestnut, and Phillip Przebieda, 10, of 833 S. Chestnut.

Registration Sunday For St. Peter Vacation School

Registration for St. Peter Lutheran vacation Bible school will be held Sunday in the lobby of St. Peter Activity building from 9 till 11 a.m. All children and young people age 3 through high school age are invited to attend this 2-week vacation school which will begin August 6 at 9 a.m. with a service in St. Peter church.

The course, which includes Bible instruction, singing, games and handicraft, will cover the 2-week period from August 6 to 17 from 9 till 11:30 each morning. The children will be divided into 4 departments: nursery, beginners, primary and the young people's department. The subject matter to be used is well graded and of a completely new and interesting format. Handiwork will include group as well as individual projects.

During the course of each day, a period will also be included during which children will be introduced to the functions and meaning behind the many furnishings of an average church edifice as well as some activity in connection with hymns and symbols. In order to cover a portion of the expense involved in the school, a registration fee of $1 is being charged. Registration for any children may be on the above date at the school or prospective pupils are asked to call Mr. Bangert at CL 3-3882.

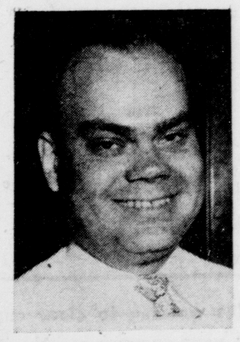
the HARRIS huddle



GEORGE HARRIS

Greetings, (and as Gene Autry would sing) "I'm back in the saddle again." Marian had a "ruddy go" at the column, and we sold some perfumes. Tommy and Billy told all the kids about our products for babies. Incidentally, they forgot to mention diapers. I asked Tommy about it and he said, "I don't believe in starting from the bottom-up." (That's a joke, son.)

I started by saying "Greetings." That's what I want to talk about—GREETING CARDS. (Pretty sneaky way to go commercial.) We have cards for every occasion at both stores — Hallmark and many others.

You know, sending a greeting, whether it be to a friend, relative, someone near and dear or someone ill is one way of keeping the spirit of true friendship and love. How little time it takes the sender and how much it means to the receiver! In these days of hustle and bustle we forget the little things that mean so much.

The next time you're in one of our stores, browse through our Greeting Card section. You'll find a card to send to someone whether it be a casual greeting, a word of cheer or an anniversary congratulation. Whatever the occasion, it will make someone very warm and happy and you'll feel better, too.

To Hear Route 83 Supermarket Appeal

Tonight at Mount Prospect village hall the Cook county zoning board of appeals will hear a request for a zoning change to permit erection of a supermarket on Elmhurst road just north of Oakton street.

The supermarket will be built on the east side of Elmhurst, about 200 feet north of Oakton. The builder, Arrow Gasoline company of Forest Park, will build the store and lease it on a long-term basis to a grocery chain, a spokesman for the firm said.

Rezoning will be asked for 2 lots with a combined frontage of 200 feet on Elmhurst rd. and a depth of 214 feet. Arrow owns one of the lots; the other is under option to Arrow by owner Arthur W. Busse, a resident of the area. A petition asks a change from farming to B-1 business (non-tavern) district. The hearing is at 7 p.m.

An Arrow official said the store dimensions would be 50 feet by 75 feet with the rest of the 2 lots devoted to parking space.

REZONING to permit a new 38-acre heavy industry district in Schaumburg township will be asked at 8:15 p.m. meeting of the county zoning board tonight at Schaumburg school.

Atty. Paul Plunkett said that a ready-mix concrete plant would occupy a portion of the tract, located on the west side of Rodenburg rd., north of the Milwaukee Road right-of-way, near the Cook-DuPage county line. He did not know what other industries were planned for the remainder of the tract. The area is now farmed by owner Marvin A. Anderson. (B7

All newcomers are invited to join the club. Betty Brooks, CL 3-8602, may be contacted for further information. (A

YMCA Camp In 3rd Period

There are fun-filled days for all boys and girls, but expecially those who are participating in supervised activities.

The thrills of horseback riding, fishing, archery, swimming, cooking over a campfire, and many, many other activities makes day camp a wonderful experience to be shared for youngsters who are beginning to pester "Mom" with the question "What can we do today?"

ALL BOYS and girls from 7 to 12 years of age have an opportunity to enroll in the Northwest Suburban YMCA Camp this week for the third period which will begin on Tuesday, July 31. The day camp known as "Camp Adventure" meets Tuesday, through Friday for this 2 week period.

Campers meet at the YMCA office or at the Village Hall in Mt. Prospect and Arlington Heights.

They are met by a chartered bus in the morning and taken to a camp site reserved for the YMCA in Deer Grove where a varied camping program is conducted during the day. In the afternoon, boys and girls are brought to the North Shore Riding Stables where they are taught to ride if they are beginners or taught new skills if they are advanced. A swim in the beautiful Methodist Camp Grounds swimming pool brings the days activities to a close and the youngsters are returned home about 5 p.m.

THE CAMPING program is conducted in the out-of-doors under the supervision of trained leaders which number one to every 8-10 campers. Campers are divided into units by age and sex.

The fee for the 2 weeks of camping includes milk each day for the youngster, bus transportation, swimming admittance, riding fees, craft supplies and insurance. All registrations may be made by calling the YMCA Office, Vanderbilt 4-4156. (B7

NEW NON-FICTION BOOKS:

"World Alive" by Robert Dunn. A personal story by the author of his intelligence assignment on the Bosporus. "All the Books Of My Life" by Sheila Kaye-Smith. An autobiographical excursion tracing and analyzing the effect books had on her way of life. "Olympio" by Andre Maurois. The life of Victor Hugo. A magnificent biography of a man; his achievements, his loves and his stormy career as a poet, novelist and statesman.

"Youth; The Years From Ten to Sixteen" by Arnold Gesell. Based upon first-hand studies of a selected group of normal adolescents. "Victory Over K-2" by Ardito Desio. The inspiring story of the triumph of foresight and heroism over one of Nature's most formidable challenges.

"Theodore Roosevelt; the Naturalist" by Paul Cutright. The story of his early experience in the West, his friendship and travels with many prominent naturalists. "Passionate Search" by Margaret Crompton. A life of Charlotte Bronte. "The Truth About Cancer" by Charles S. Cameron, M.D. Gift of the Northwest Suburban chapter American Cancer Society. "For Love Of A King" by Alexandra, Queen of Yugoslavia. A disarming and wholly enchanting royal autobiography of a beautiful queen.

"WASHINGTON Is Wonderful" by Dorothea Jones. An informal but comprehensive guide to our beautiful Capital City. "Hunza; Lost Kingdom of the Himalayas" by John Clark. The true story of an American's single-handed attempt to introduce a new way of life into a remote central Asian kingdom.

"Arctic Wilderness" by Robert Marshall. Trips by foot, boat and dogsled into wilderness areas north of the Arctic circle. "The Navajos" by Ruth M. Underhill. The author presents the absorbing and authoritative account of the Navajos.

"Surprised by Joy" by C. S. Lewis. The author tells of his search for joy. "Wilderness For Sale" by Walter Havighurst. The story of the first Western land rush. "The Power Elite" by C. Mills. Depicting the style of life of the men and women at the pinnacles of fame and power and fortune in mid-century America. "Minority Report" by H. L. Mencken. From his notebooks reflecting a rigorous and exhilarating mind and personality.

"AWAKE TO A Perfect Day" by Clara Clemens. The moving and inspiring, story of how Mark Twain's daughter achieved physical, mental and spiritual happiness. "Zanzabuku" (Dangerous Safari) by Lewis Cotlow. The adventurous account of three dangerous safaris to Africa - filming wild animals and primitive tribes.

"Deliver Us From Evil" by Thomas A. Dooley, M.D. The fantastic experiences of a Navy doctor among the terrorized Vietnamese victims of the Communist "Nantucket Landfall" by Dorothy Blanchard. The story of an island's sea-change from whaling port to summer resort. "Letter To A Generation "by Ralph E. Flanders. A message based on nearly 75 years of wide experience in industry, banking and government.

"The American Tradition" by John Hicks. Themes discussed by the author with his students in his lectures and informal conversations with them. "The Mind Goes Forth" by Harry and Bonaro Overstreet. The drama of understanding; how to build creative confidence between ourselves and others.

"Short Story Writing for Profit" by Elliott Blackiston. An answer to questions asked by writers in meeting their daily problems of writing short stories for publication.

"The Parents Handbook" by Allan Fromme. An encyclopedia devoted to the emotional problems of children's growth, with practical suggestions on understanding, anticipating and solving them.

New Fiction

"Charmed Circle" by Susan Ertz. A long, rich novel of an American family. "Christopher Humble" by Charles B. Judah. A novel of the 17th century that moves between the rugged life of the Virginia colony and the lavish court of Charles II. "The Keepers of the Walls" by Helga Harrison. A story told with verve, skill, and irony which are much to be admired. "The Candle of the Wicked" by Edwin Balmer. A powerful novel which explores a familiar and puzzling question: what is the place of faith in everyday life?

"Hannah Fowler" by Janice Giles. Portraying with intimate authenticity the life and outlook of the pioneer woman. "Falconer's Voyage" by Hugh Hickling. Here is a voyage of men — in company they do not choose, to a destination they do not know. "The House at Adampur" by Anand Lall. A richly patterned story of India's upper classes during her stormy passage toward independence. "My Lord Monleigh" by Jan Speas. A novel of rare and haunting beauty with a setting in Scotland.

"PEMMICAN" by Vardis Fisher. An exciting historical novel of the Canadian woods. "Farewell The Stranger" by Saliee O'Brien. A heartening, adventurous novel of wilderness life when the midwest was a real frontier. A Single Pebble" by John Hersey. A beautiful, simple novel about China. "Girl in May" by Bruce Marshall, a charming romance between a heroine of 17 and a hero of the same age; a story of young love.

"The Ilex Avenue" by Janet Whitney. The story of a young woman who went to England to take charge of a group of refugee children. "The King's Messenger" by Samuel Edwards. A story of suspense, love, of fighting in the American wilderness. "The Captive Rider" by Anne Downes. Can a man lose the habit of living when he weds himself to success? "The Happy Exiles" by Felicity Shaw. A gay novel with a setting in England. "The Sleepless Moon" by H. E. Bates. A profoundly human story of the search for love.

"Eagle on the Sun" by Julia Davis. A novel of men on the march in the expedition that led to the Mexican war and of life in the South. "Jenny" by Ada Cook Lewis. A historical novel of 18th century London. "A Dance In The Sun" by Dan Jacobson. A novel of South Africa.

Four Teens Report On Boys State Trip

Four Arlington Heights teenage boys reported recently to the American Legion and Lions club which sponsored their trip to "Boys State" in Springfield.

All 4 were enthusiastic about the experience.

EXCLAIMED BOB SIEGEL:

"It was for me a week of living and learning with 1,400 other teenage citizens of a working model of Illinois. The practice of good politics, and the advantage of gaining new friends and a new insight into people are 3 of the outstanding features of this 7-day program."

During the week, Siegel served as city attorney for an imaginary municipality. He defended or prosecuted for the city in all court capacities. He also acted as county supervisor and court reporter.

Siegel also received a silver medal for second place in the Boys' State oratorical contest on Abraham Lincoln.

DECLARED JEFF HANOR:

"Boys State is an experience that I seriously doubt will ever be paralleled. The many facts that I learned about our governmental system will be of great use to me in the future. One of the friendliness of the other fellows I met.

"I sincerely wish that every young citizen of our country be given a chance to attend such a program, and I am particularly thankful that I was one of these picked to attend Boys State."

Hanor attended a special school of law instruction, passed a state bar examination, and now may practice law in Boys State. He served as health commissioner for one of the cities, and was appointed assistant attorney general by the newly-elected governor.

DECLARED WARREN SMITH:

"Every time that I picked up the newspaper, I saw the terrible things that teens were doing against their community and nation. But I never saw as an effective for delinquency as offered club.

"The only regret that I have is that so few boys were chosen from our vast state, omiting some fellows who couldn't find any supporters."

CHIMED GENE STRAUS:

"I feel that the experience is one that will not be forgotten for a long time by the boys chosen to go. I am very grateful for being given the chance to go and only wish it was possible for all youth."

Boys State is sponsored each year by the Illinois department of the American Legion. Local boys are sponsored by Merle Guild post and Arlington Heights Lions club.

Homer-Happy Reds Strike-Happy, Too

The Cincinnati Redlegs have been homer-happy this year. But, says The Sporting News, ther's another side to the picture. They also are going along at a brisk pace in striking out. Waly Post, for instance, fanned the sixtieth time this season on June 18. If he keeps this up h'll top his 1955 mark of 102 by a big margin. The entire team, with 287 strikeouts and 100 games to pay, seem haded for a record for one season. Last year's Cubs set the National League record with 86 strikeouts. (SP

"WORRY, WORRY, THAT IS THE EVIL OF LIFE"

One foolish way to worry is to think you have some sickness, and then to do nothing about it. Some people are afraid to go to a physician because they are afraid he might tell them they have the trouble they are worrying about.

Relieve your mind quickly. Visit your physician immediately if you think something is wrong. Don't try to treat yourself. Get his expert advice, and the odds are that not only are your worries unnecessary, but under his skilled treatment you will get better quickly if you really have something wrong with you.

LYLE DEAHR

I've been asked by several people if our place of business is a "chain"; emphatically NO! It is just a restaurant of modern design to bring you good food at fair prices and . . . from 7 a.m. until 12 midnight.

Our menu runs the gamut of delectable foods; but, this being close to Friday, I'd like to tell you about one of our specialites . . .

FRENCH FRIED SHRIMP

. . . Sounds like just another item on a menu, but not so at Stage Coach Snack Shop. Sea Pak, the most famous name in sea food, ships us shrimp directly from the west coast. Large, juicy, succulent, fried to a golden brown crispness that tempts the taste buds. You have a choice of tartar or cocktail sauce (with a little zest), a choice of French fried or American fried potatoes, a garden-fresh tossed salad (our chef's specialty) with a choice of 3 dressings, French, 1000 Island and garlic. Add fresh rolls with plenty of butter and you have a gourmet's delight that you will find available at all hours and priced at the moderate price of $1.35—yes, just $1.35. This is just a sample of the quality of food and our reasonable prices.

Don't forget, we have all the "Fountain Specialties"—malts, shakes and sundaes that are out of this world—or in one word, "heavenly." Stop drooling and come in and see us.

Arlington Swimmers Top Barrington Pool, 45-24

The Arlington Heights swimming team whipped Barrington Sunday, 45-24, at the latter's pool in the second meet of the summer. Sunday, July 29, Arlington will host Barrington at 7:00 p.m.

Capturing 7 of the 8 events on Sunday's card, the local swimmers put on an impressive show. Individually, Joan Koeppen gained a first and third and swam on the victorious 120 yard medley relay; Rich Anderson won an individual event and was a member of the 80-yard free style relay squad; and Tom Ocasek, who placed in the state prep swimming meet, captured the 100 yard free style and also swam the crawl as a part of the 120 yard medley relay.

In a preliminary meet with no opposition from Barrington M. Dalton and B. Schaefer captured 2 individual firsts with Paul McNurlen getting 3 seconds in the 13-14 division.

Eastwood Events

Move

Sig and Grace Hollinger, 603 N. Beverley, are moving Saturday from Eastwood to Plum Grove Estates. Come to find out that their new neighbors will be some former Eastwoodites, the Busings and the Menicks.

The Evensens, Ed, Helen, Barbara and Eddie, leave 626 N. Dryden this weekend to move to 631 S. Walnut. They and the Don Barkers, their immediate neighbors, who also are moving within the next few weeks, were guests of honor at a barbecue potluck supper party Saturday night. Site for the party was provided by the Al Aspengrens and attending were the Grashorns, Magnussens and Loftuses.

Hospitalized

Rushed to Evanston hospital Saturday night was Billy Anderson, 14-year-old son of Mrs. Eleanor Anderson, 217 N. Beverley. Billy was running a high temperature, but no other symptoms had developed at this writing. Friends wish him a speedy recovery and return home.

Congratulations go to Terry Moore, 13, 202 N. Dryden. Terry took third place in the Elgin Soap box derby held in Elgin last Sunday afternoon.

Delores Conn was guest of honor at a luncheon and baby shower Wednesday afternoon. Co-hostesses were Ann Lerch and Stephanie Tennyson in the latter's home. Seventeen neighborhood friends attended.

Leaving for a week's vacation trip sponsored by St. John Evangelical Reformed church are Margaret Barrick, Kathy and Peggy Kuhlman. They leave Sunday for East Bay Camp, Bloomington.

From Lima, Ohio came the Sylvester Grants last weekend to spend it with Charles and Mrytle Alford, 306 N. Brighton. Mrs. Grant is Myrtle's sister.

The Jim Rogers and daughter, Nancy, drove to Ottawa last weekend to be with Jean's brother, Mr. and Mrs. J. O'Brien, and family. Daughter Diana preceded the rest of the family by train in order to attend a Friday night party and to stay with friend, Jane Purcell of Ottawa, for a week.

"Hunky Dory Farms" sounds like fun. That's where the Myron G. Kuhlman family, 716 N. Beverley, spent a week at Balsam Lake, Wis. From there they went through the Straits of Mackinac to Grand Rapids to visit some friends. They are home now.

"Fishy" is the vacation story of Homer and Dolores Nielsen, 403 N. Brighton. They spent 10 days angling in the Minnesota-Canadian border lakes, caught their limits and wound up at their summer home on Fox lake and reunioned with children, Scott and Teri-Lee, for the remainder of time.

Down to Ft. Lauderdale for 2 weeks, but home now are Mac, Francis and son, Roger, McKnight, 211 N. Brighton.

Mr. and Mrs. John Albrecht, 301 N. Brighton are home after being away for 12 days, first to Kansas City, Kan. to visit their son and his family, the Wilson Albrechts, and then on to Kirkwood, Mo. to visit other members of their fams.

The Jerry Zapp family, 204 N. Brighton, came back Sunday after spending 10 days in the northlands around Appleton and Sister Bay. They report, in spite of the coolness of the weather, they had a thoroughly enjoyable time and that the fish were biting and the putts were falling. On the way back they stopped in Green Bay for a family reunion.

Bridge Tournament Time Soon

Soon members of the bridge committee of Eastwood association will be making their contacts for the bridge tournament players for the coming season. Several of last year's members have moved, which means there will be vacancies, plus the fact that the committee would like to expand the tournament. Interested persons are asked to call Grayce Johnson, CL 3-4024, Dorothy Raasch, CL 3-7312, or Delores Neilsen, CL 3-6946.

Heights Men Head Crystal Lodge 100F

Harold Stoffel, 133 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, was recently installed as noble grand of Crystal Lodge 100F. Ernest T. Leichsenring, 7 W. Eastman, Arlington Heights, was elected vice grand; Robert E. Helfers, 835 N. Fernandez, Arlington Heights, chaplain and Dr. Henry B. Neumann, P. G. 315 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, right supporter to the noble grand.

The local men were installed into office July 18 in Crystal lodge 451 of Independent Order of Odd Fellows in Crystal Lake. Harry E. Burns, grand warden of the Grand Lodge of Illinois, officated as installing officer. (A

Village Theatre Picnic July 29 At Busse Woods

Village Theatre, Arlington Heights, will meet Sunday, July 29 for its family picnic at Busse Woods, Elk Grove No.7. Members and their children and anyone interested in Village Threatre may attend, as early as 11 a.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Moses, who are planning the picnic, have asked each family attending to bring a covered dish to share, and either sandwiches or meat to supplement the potluck lunch. Drinks will be furnished. Games and prizes for both children and adults have been arranged by the committee.

TO REACH the picnic site take State rd. (Arlington Heights rd.) to Higgins (72), 1 mile west on Higgins to the South entrance of Busse Woods—keep driving on past the picnic area until you come to Grove No. 7. Watch for Village Theatre signs.

For reservations and a suggestion for a covered dish to share call Mrs. Marshall Moses at CL 3-8981. (ACM

Seek Ground Observer Post At High School

A ground observer post will be erected on the grounds of Arlington high school, if the high school board of education approves.

AT THE NEXT meeting of the board August 13, Mrs. Albert C. Peters, local civil defense director, will discuss with the board her request for permission to build the post north of the school building.

The air force wants a post in the Arlington-Palatine area.

After getting little response from Palatine authorities, the air force approved a move to Arlington.

According to Mrs. Peters, there are enough volunteers to man the post. Ground observers are able to detect low-flying airplanes that leak through radar networks and are thus vital to the civil defense effort.

AFTER A SITE is acquired it is expected that organizations and individuals will be asked to give funds or materials for its erection. The air force nas no money available for this purpose.

The nearest post is in Des Plaines. (AF

New 200 Home Subdivision, 'Prospect Hills,' Planned

Plans for a subdivision of more than 200 homes to be located on Palatine road between Arlington Heights and Prospect Heights were disclosed at a county zoning board of appeals Thursday.

The development on 72 acres at the northwest corner of Palatine and Buffalo Grove roads will be called Prospect Hills.

The ranch and bi-level homes will be built by William F. Harris of Lincolnwood. The lots will average 11,000 square feet with a minimum frontage of 75 feet except for a small number of pie-shaped lots in cul-de-sacs.

A ZONING change is being sought from farming to R-4 residence (10,000 square feet). There were no objections to the request.

Harris said the project will have paved streets, curb and gutter, sidewalks, sanitary and storm sewers and central water and sewage disposal plants.

In another hearing at the Arlington Heights village hall an Evanston restaurant operator asked for a zoning change to permit construction of a 72-unit luxury motel and restaurant.

It would be located 200 feet west of River rd. and 1,780 feet south of Palatine rd., midway between Wheeling and Des Plaines.

Motel residents would have a swimming pool and playground for their use.

ASSOCIATED in the venture are Joseph Yacullo, the restaurateur, and Joseph Vancheri and Alex Mann. Rezoning of 2 acres from farming to B-1 business (non-tavern) was asked.

Later Thursday evening the zoning board heard a request for a change to permit erection of a service station at the southwest corner of Baldwin rd. and Brockway st. just north of Palatine.

Despite the fact that a commercial usage would conflict with the Palatine master plan, there was no objection from the village. An ice cream stand was recently completed on the southeast corner.

All the petitions were taken under advisement. B7)

Twenty-Two Realtors Form Multiple Listing Service

Twenty-two leading realtors in Mt. Prospect, Arliington Heights, and Palatine have formed a multiple listing service to serve this territory.

Persons listing homes for sale exclusively with a member realtor will automatically become recipients of the services of 85 real estate salesmen employed by these brokers. Each house so listed will be available through every other member office.

FAMILIES coming into the area will also be able to cover the complete list of available homes with a minimum amount of inconvenience.

Officers of the new organization, called M-A-P are Edward Busse, president; Al Peters, vice president; Carl M. Behrens, treasurer; H. J. Tiindall, secretary; and directors: Charles H. Wilson, Don D. Florence, Robert Thrailkill and DeWitt Purdy.

Member firms are: George L. O'Day Realty Co., Annen and Busse, George L. Busse, H. J. Tindall & Sons, H. A. Dooley Co., Arrow Suburban Homes, "C" Francek, Ken R. Whitton, Inc., H. R. Wiggins Real Estate, Arlington Realty, Baird & Warner, Inc., C. M. Behrens & Co., Krause & Kehe, Manke Real Estate, Purdy & Hilgermann, Inc., Willson & Florence, Charles H. Wilson, Inc., Dean & Peters, Falkanger & Kohl Real Estate, William H. DePue Real Estate, Roy L. LaLonde and Smith & Dawson.

This new service will be available to homeowners August 1.

Area Booster Is Realty Speaker

A film and lecture depicting Chicago area growth during the postwar period as well as forecasts of population and expansion trends in the next decade will be offered members of the Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors.

The group meets Thursday, July 26 at 7 p.m. at 7710 Milwaukee ave., Niles.

SPEAKER WILL be Richard Revnes, director of membership service for the Chicago Association of Commerce and Industry.

He is, by his own admission, "a Californian by birth but a Chicagoan by choice."

It might be considered logical, therefore, that this "convert" to the Windy City—a salesman all of his working life—is now engaged in selling one of the great "products" of the world—the city of Chicago and its metropolitan area.

IN HIS CAMPAIGN to acquaint Chicagoland's businessmen with the greatness of Chicago, Revnes has addressed more than 4,000 executives during the past year.

In his spare time, he practices what he preaches by taking an active part in civic affairs. He has served twice as industry section chairman for the Red Cross.

Revnes lives in Prospect Heights.

Seven Polio Pointers For A Safer Summer

The Cook County chapter, National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis, this week issued a reminder to all parents and all adults of the precautions to take during the summer polio season.

1. Keep children with their usual companions; don't take them in crowds.
2. Avoid fatigue and chilling. This means adults, too.
3. Follow your doctor's advice about mouth and throat operations.
4. Teach children to wash hands carefully before eating and after going to the toilet. Don't use another's soiled towels, dishes or tableware.
5. Tell your doctor if these symptoms appear: headache, fever, sore throat, upset stomach, stiff neck or back. Put sick person to bed promptly.
6. Remember — at least half of all polio patients get well without any crippling.
7. Also remember — get in touch with your March of Dimes Headquarters if you need help for a polio patient (ANdover 3-1070)."

'Beware Of Unscrupulous Movers,' Warns Chamber

Dwight H. Wallace, manager of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, warned today against problems and pitfalls that can arise in the moving of household goods.

Citing a bulletin from the National Better Business bureau, with which the local chamber is affiliated, Wallace said:

"On the infrequent occasions when people move their household possessions from one community to another, they enter into relations with a large and complex industry with which they are, in most cases, quite unfamiliar. This fact has resulted in misunderstandings between home-owners and reliable movers, and in addition, has made it possible for a few unscrupulous operators to cheat and defraud the unwary."

WALLACE STATED that householders who are preparing to move their possessions should secure several estimates from moving firms. He cautioned, however, against making the mistake of assuming that an estimate is an actual prediction of the precise total charge, or assuming that an estimate binds a mover with regard to his price. He also stated that householders should be wary of the mover whose estimate is substantially lower than the range of other competing estimates received. (B7

Your Suburban GOVERNMENT

By Tom Brennan
And Dick Dunkel, Jr.

Now that we have seen what incorporation means, let's see how it works.

Areas seeking to incorporate may incorporate as either cities or villages, providing they meet certain requirements set forth in the state statutes.

Actually there is little difference between cities and villages. In general, it seems, city governments are meant to best apply to larger incorporated areas, and village governments to smaller. However, there are many villages (Oak Park) larger than some cities (Rolling Meadows).

To incorporate as a village, a majority of voters in an area not more than 2 square miles and containing at least 100 residents must approve incorporation in a special election.

To incorporate as a city, a majority of voters in an area not more than 4 square miles and containing at least 1,000 residents must approve incorporation in a special election.

The major reason that Rolling Meadows, for instance, incorporated as a city is because of a law that allows cities to incorporate right across the street from an existing municipality, while a village may not incorporate within a mile from the limits of another city or village.

THERE ARE ALSO distinctions between city and village organizational make up after incorporation.

The head of village governments is a village president, of city governments a mayor. While both are elected at large by the residents of the municipality, there is some difference in the powers granted to each by law.

The mayor of a city, for instance, has authority to appoint men to such positions as police chief, building inspector etc. The mayor himself does the appointing, and his selections must then be approved by the city council.

A village president, however, has no such personal powers of appointment. The village president must work jointly with village trustees in matters of appointment.

In reverse, a mayor may remove an appointee from office. After removal the mayor's action must be upheld by the city council. But a village president may not alone remove an appointee. He must act jointly with village trustees.

UNLIKE VILLAGES (unless changed by special election), cities are divided into districts or wards. One elected representative from each ward sits as a member of the city council. Representatives are called aldermen.

Members of village boards, however, are normally elected at large.

This difference in organizational makeup shows that city government is meant for large and heavily populated areas. By requiring that a representative be elected from each district of the city, the law insures that all sectional problems of a large city will be recognized by the council.

Villages, presumably, are small enough so that village trustees, no matter where in town they live, should be acquainted will all village problems and disputes.

CITY AND VILLAGE legislative powers also differ occasionally. In the 5,000-odd pages of the state statutes many municipal laws apply to both governments, however some treat cities and villages individually.

There is a difference, for instance, in the establishing and financing of a municipal park by a city or a village if their populations are under 15,000.

A village of that size may, if election approved, purchase and maintain by tax money a public park for the use of its citizens anywhere it wants—evidently even Miami Beach.

But a city of under 15,000 may only do likewise within 4 miles of the city limits. Also a city may borrow money to set up a park while no such stipulation is granted villages.

Villages are also left out of Chapter 38, Paragraph 516. Here widows and families of husbands lynched in cities, counties or park districts may demand up to $10,000 in damages.

For some reason village governments aren't held responsible for lynchings inside the village limits. (Law passed A.D. 1931) (B7

Gas Company Says Proposed Underground Storage 'Safe'

"There will be absolutely no danger of a gas explosion or of leakage of gas from the underground storage tunnels to be located in Elk Grove township," an official of Northern Illinois Gas co. declared Monday.

C. Del Pendergrast, director of publicity for the utility, also stated that there is very little likelihood that the ground water supply will be in any way endangered by the project.

Pendergrast expained:

"The gas will be stored in tunnels 30 feet high and up to 15 feet wide and spread out over 27 acres in a grid pattern. There will be a protecting cap of solid rock with a thickness of at least 5 feet on top and underneath the tunnels

"The project will be on property west of Elmhurst rd. between Touhy and Algonquin now owned, leased or optioned, to the gas company," continued Pendergrast. "As the layer of rock to contain the tunnels is 250 feet below the surface of the ground, below the ground water supply, wells will not be contaminated. If water could seep into the tunnels, or gas out of them, the tunnels would be of no use."

BEFORE DRILLING work can start, the Illinois Commerce commission must give the project its approval. Hearings are being conducted on it this week.

The tunnels will be excavated entirely with hand or machine tools, Hence there will be no hazards from explosions. Liquefied propane is the gas to be stored.

Work will commence on the $1 million job as soon as the commerce commission hands down its ruling, said the director. (AF

PEOPLE WISE MARTINIZE

Day after day, week after week, many people try our MARTINIZING process for cleaning and proclaim it to be far superior than their previous cleaning service.

We have no magic wand, no words of magic, just a sound principle for cleaning clothes—a method so quick and thorough that it sometimes seems like magic. We offer this service on a ONE-HOUR basis if you so desire and guarantee it to be as good or better than any method taking two or three days. This is not mumbo-jumbo, just a plain statement of fact.

Had a friend of mine, who didn't know I own Dunton Court Cleaners, stop me on the street and ask me if I'd tried this new cleaner who used the MARTINIZING process. He said he'd been sending all his summer suits there and had never had them look so good. Gave me quite a lift, so I had to tell him my connection with the place.

You folks who have lovely curtains and draperies that you want cleaned and cleaned properly, should know it is one of our specialties.

Give us a try on all your cleaning today; you'll be glad tomorrow.

Advertisement For Bids

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the BOARD OF TRUSTEES of the Village of Arlington Heights, Illinois at its Regular Meeting July 17, 1956, authorized the taking of sealed bids for the three following separate items:

(1) One trailer mounted Mist-Blower, with trailer of adequate size as per specifications on file with the Village Clerk for spraying elm trees.

(2) 1000 gallons, more-or-less, of Elm Spray for Dutch Elm Disease Control, in 55 gallon drums, as per specifications on file with the Village Clerk.

Alternate Bid on minimum quantity of 4000 gallons, more-or-less, in 55 gallon drums, of Elm Spray for Dutch Elm Disease Control as per specifications on file with the Village Clerk.

Alternate Bid on quantities of Dormant Spray Oil as an additive to the Elm Spray for the control of scale insects. Bidder shall specify the grade of the Dormant Spray oil offered and the quantities required for each 50 gallons of Elm Spray.

(3) Sanitation work consisting of (a) trimming of dead and dying branches in Elm trees on public property (b) trimming of dangerous and low hanging limbs to proper elevation height over streets and sidewalks. Bids on sanitation work shall be on an hourly rate basis, including the furnishing of any and all equipment required, adequate insurance consisting of property damage, public liability and workmen's compensation. The Village will remove all tree trimmings, branches and tree trunks cut by the successful bidder. Bidder shall provide a working crew consisting of not more than three tree climbers and a working foreman. Bidder shall specify the size of the crew. The sanitation work bid upon will cover the fiscal year ending April 30, 1957, the weather permitting.

The Board of Trustees reserves the right to waive any informalities and technicalities in the bidding process and to reject any and all bids. It is understood that a bidder may bid on one or more of the above three items and that the bids may be awarded separately by the Village.

Delivery date of the Elm Spray, Dormant Spray Oil and equipment shall be specified in the bid.

Prices quoted shall be f.o.b Arlington Heights, Illinois.

Bidder shall furnish a list of nearby owners using the type of equipment and the material bid on and he shall submit manufacturers specifications with bid.

Sealed bids shall be filed with the Village Clerk, as specified above, and as per specifications on file, not later than 8:00 p.m., Tuesday, August 7th, 1956, Central Standard Daylight Saving Time.

Public Notice

Notice of Proposed Changes in Schedule

COMMONWEALTH EDISON COMPANY (Public Service Company Division) hereby gives notice to the public that certain revisions in Standard Contract Rider 12, as contained in Schedule E-3 have been filed with the Illinois Commerce Commission on July 17, 1956.

The proposed revisions would limit the redistribution of electricity by customers to buildings in which the practice of redistribution exists and to buildings constructed under permits applied for prior to July 17, 1956, except that the practice will be permitted in certain cases where limitation would be impracticable, such as the furnishing of electricity by a customer to his students or employes, transients, occupants of furnished rooms or of individual offices in professional suites, certain types of concessionaires, and tenants of remodeled buildings originally wired for single occupancy.

Further information with respect to these changes may be obtained directly from the Company or by addressing the Secretary of the Illinois Commerce Commission in Springfield, Illinois.

A copy of the proposed changes may be inspected by any interested party in any business office of this Company.

Returning Home After 7 Weeks In Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson left Copenhagen on the Bergemfjord Saturday. They have spent 7 weeks touring Europe, visiting 10 countries.

While in Vienna Mr. Hendrickson attended a 4-day real estate conference. He writes that he will be back in his real estate office August 2nd. (A

Daily Vacation Bible School To Open

Seventh annual daily vacation Bible school will open at Faith Lutheran church, 431 S. State rd., Monday morning, July 30, at 9. Sessions will be held every morning for a 2-week period. Children ages 4—14 will study courses based on the central theme, "God's Children Pray".

Pre-enrollment is suggested to reduce delay at the opening of the school. Mrs. Ross Meredith and Mrs. Irving Johnson will receive registrations Sunday morning, July 29, before Sunday school. Parents may also call Clearbrook 3—3469 to register and to request transportation for small children if needed. An enrollment fee of 50 cents partially covers workbook and project material. All children of the community and its new subdivisions are invited. Pastor Behrens will again serve as director of the school.

An important new feature of the 1956 session will be hymn study under the leadership of George Schrader, new minister of music of Faith church. Pupils will be taught the story of the hymns, will learn the tune and receive a deeper understanding of the text. Choirs from the school will sing in the church services August 5 and 12.

Nursery and beginner classes will have an art project every day with daily take-home handiwork. Upper-department classes will have one project each week. Capable and experienced leaders will be in charge of the various departments and the teachers have been busy at work preparing for another successful session of Faith vacation school. (A

School Bus

Those who missed last week's column are asked to note that a survey has been taken in Wilson school district to determine which bus service to employ for school children this fall. If parents desire bus service for their children and have not been contacted they are urged to phone Mrs. Natzke at CLearbrook 3-4709 immediately.

Construction on the addition of the 4 new rooms and an all-purpose room has been started on Wilson school and is coming along very satisfactorily. Tentative completion date is November 28.

Approaching Marriage

Neal Bonn, airman 1/c of Pinegate and Miss Carolyn Wiberg of Brookfield will be married August 4 at the chapel of Illinois Tech at 11 a.m. After the wedding they will live in Salina, Kan. where Neal is stationed.

Dutch Elm Plague

Dutch elm disease has now spread into three-fourths of Illinois counties, reports R. J. Campana of the Ilinois Natural History Survey. It was first reported in Illinois 6 pears ago in Cole county.

In most cases, it is not possible to prevent the disease from spreading, but the rate of speed has been retarded considerably by early detection, timely sanitation and proper spraying.

Campana says that typical Dutch elm disease symptoms are wilting and discoloration of leaves of one or more branches. These leaves may fall prematurely.

Sapwood may be streaked or wholly discolored brown on branches that have wilted most recently.

Specimens for culturing should be taken from a live, wilting branch eight to ten inches long and at least half an inch in diameter that shows discoloration. The samples should be tagged with a description of the tree's location and sent to the Illinois Natural History Survey, Urbana, for free examination.

Culturing is necessary for positive identification of Dutch elm disease.

Campana says community-wide action is required to reduce sources of further infestation.

SANITATION HELPS to reduce infestation. It involves removing actual and potential sources of infection by destroying all breeding places of the elm bark beetle which carries the fungus from diseased trees to healthy ones.

News Of Prospect Meadows

Welcome New Neighbors

Three new families, the Robert Wilsons, Harry Roods and William Wustenfelds, who recently moved into the Meadows, were greeted by Vi Toner and Marge Murdock, members of the welcoming committee, last Wednesday. The families were each presented with a gift and were invited to join Meadowites in community affairs.

Robert and Joan Wilson and their children, Bobby, 2½, and Cindy, 10 months, are new residents at 610 Bob-O-Link rd. The Wilsons, who are originally from Norwood Park, moved here from California, where they lived the past 3 years. Robert is employed by the Regensteiner Printing Corp. in Chicago.

Residents of the new house at 613 Bunting lane are Harry and Mary Jane Rood and their 2 children, Mary Pat, 4, and Michael, 2. The Roods moved to the Meadows from Chicago. Harry is with the Illinois Bell Co.

New owners of the home at 615 Rand rd. are William and Mary Wustenfeld. The Wustenfelds have a daughter, Lisa Ann, 9 months old. They formerly lived in Shiller Park. Mary is a registered nurse and William is associated with a real estate broker.

Vacationing

The week of July 7 Bob and Arlette Klein and their daughters, Diane and Susan, vacationed at a lodge on Squirrel lake in Minoqua, Wis.

Chuck and Lorrie Brazeau and Ray and Jean Seeber returned last Thursday from a 5-day trip to Canada. They stopped at Windsor, Canada and visited the Niagara Falls on the Canadian side, stopping in New York, Cleveland and Toledo on the way home. Ray's mother, Mrs. Emma Seeber, stayed in the Meadows with the 2 Seeber children, Arlette and Chipper. Brazeaus' children, Mickey, Linda and Debbie, stayed with various relatives in the Chicago area.

John and Jane Harland and their sons, Wayne and Terry, and John's brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Harland and son, Johnny, of Erie, Ill., enjoyed a picnic together Sunday afternoon in Deer Grove park.

House Guests

Guests of Bud and Jane Redeen last weekend were Jane's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Ploetz of Wausaw, Wis.

Weekend guests of Tom and Lorraine Heinz were Mr. and Mrs. James Seeley of River Forest. The Heinzes are the happy owners of a new swimming pool and Tom and Lorraine and their daughters, Mary Lee, Nancy, Barbara and Judy, plan to spend the rest of the summer vacationing right in their own back yard. Tom was released from Hinsdale sanitorium June 1 and is now convalescing at home. He has been on sick leave from the First National bank of Chicago and plans to get back on the job in the fall.

Vacationers making their headquarters at the home of Tony and Vi Toner the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Edward Devinger and their sons, Edward and Garry, of Mt. Pleasant, Iowa. Mr. Devinger is Vi's brother. Tony, Vi and their children have been accompanying the Devingers on outings to the races, Riverview park and other places of interest in the Chicago area.

Guests for several days last week of Ralph and Helena Woodruff were Mrs. Clarke Templeton and her daughter, Mary, of Grosse Pt., Mich. Miss Templeton is a medical student at the University of Michgan. The 2 women stopped to visit the Woodruffs on their way to Minnesota.

Last Thursday Mrs. Orvilla Daley and her daughter, Dorothy, spent the day with Ralph and Helena Woodruff. Mrs. Daley and her daughter are former Meadowites now making their home in Clearwater, Fla. They are spending several weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Merton Daley, also former Meadowites, who now reside in Arlington Heights. Helena entertained guests in her home Thursday with an afternoon tea for Mrs. Daley. Present from the grandmother's club, of which Mrs. Daley was a member, were Myrtle Stickrod, Frances Schulz, Elizabeth Gutzmer, Edna Vartanian and Catherine Coughlin. Also present were Ginny Richardson and her cousin, Mrs. Anderson, and Andy and Kay Bischoff.

Birthdays

The evening of July 21 Warren Bischoff, son of Andy and Kay Bischoff, hosted friends and relatives in his home with a birthday dinner. The occasion was Warren's 13th birthday. His guests were Ronnie and Larry Richardson, Kenny Middleton, Jim Gutzmer, Tom Hennen, Diane Klein, Andrea Splithoff, Ellen Kay Edwards, Dorothy Shons, his cousins, Carol and Jean Wilcox and Joan and David Duncan, and his brother, Scott. Joan Duncan was also celebrating her birthday, as she was born 12 years ago on the same day as Warren.

A birthday party was held at the home of Bill and Marge Murdock the afternoon of July 23 to celebrate their daughter, Nancy's eighth birthday. Joining Nancy for birthday refreshments and party games were her playmates Jane Wrath, Sandy Sepke, Valerie Ruther, Barbara Hemesath, Vicky and Merri Heurlin, Gail LeBrun, Pamela Sage and Pamela Bocian.

Joyce Ruther received a birthday surprise last Wednesday afternoon when neighbors Kay Sepke, Rita Durec, Pat Wrath, Jean Kamps and Connie Heurlin arranged a coffee and cake gettogether on Kay's patio.

Arlette Klein, whose birthday was July 25, entertained at her home last Sunday to mark the occasion. Dinner guests of Bob and Arlette were Arlette's mother, Mrs. Violet Richter, and Bob's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klein.

Celebrating her seventh birthday Monday afternoon was Arlette Seeber, daughter of Ray and Jean Seeber. Enjoying birthday refreshments and games with Arlette were playmates Mary Lee and Nancy Heinz, Susan and Sharon Larson, Kathy Holleran, Barbara Smith, Jean Rutkowski and Heide Hallabrin.

Summer Camp

Maj. Henry J. Robotkay returned Saturday from Camp Claybanks, Mich. after completing 2 weeks of summer training with the 202 nd. A.A.A. group, Illinois National Guard. The group participated in anti-aircraft artillery firing exercises off of Lake Michigan.

A truck with the name "Andy's Oil Company" can be seen in Andy Bischoff's driveway now as he is going into business for himself with his own new truck.

by the couple and the immediate family in the Union hotel, Wheeling, and a reception for relatives and friends from Chicago, Des Plaines and Wheeling was held in the home of the bride's parents, Robert and Irene Scott. Out of town guests for the wedding were the groom's parents and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Hector Moore and Miss Nancy Moore of East Palestine, Ohio, and his cousin, John Mullin of East Liverpool, Ohio. William Moore is an aviation mechanic in the navy and has been stationed at Glenview for the past 2 years. The young couple are on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls and East Palestine, Ohio and on their return will be at home in their apartment in Wheeling.

Don and Dorothy Walsh celebrated their 10th wedding anniversary Saturday evening by seeing "The King and I" with their children.

Vic and Connie Heurlin and their daughters, Vicky and Merri, moved from their home at 419 Bob-O-Link to their new home, 305 S. Albert st., Mt. Prospect, July 23. Connie's neighbors, Joyce Ruther, Rita Durec, Pat Wrath, Jane Kamps and Kay Sepke, entertained with a farewell luncheon last Thursday and presented her with a gift.

Bill and Pat Riley entertained Pat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert L. Brown of Evanston, and her aunt, Mrs. M. Wolf of Chicago, with a barbecue dinner last Sunday. Their daughter Patty, left with the Browns to spend the night with her grandparents and keep a modeling appointment Monday at a Chicago studio.

Jimmy Kandul, son of Ed and Lois Kandul, spent several days recently with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Ihlenfeldt in Elmhurst. While Jimmy was there, Ed and Lois Kandul and their son, Barry, drove to Green Lake, Wis. and made arrangements for the family's vacation there later this summer.

A picnic supper on the patio of Art and Kay Sepke was enjoyed by neighbors Pat and John Wrath, Bert and Joyce Ruther, Irv and Vi Manda and Ruby and Stan Polly Monday evening.

Art Sepke, accompanied by Kay, went to Elgin Saturday night to help his team, Evanston, win a 15 to 4 victory over Joliet in the first round of the State finals in semi-pro baseball.

Sunday, after playing baseball in Evanston, Art brought home a fellow player, John Herb, to join the Sepke family for dinner.

School Registration

Registration for all new pupils moving into Elk school district 59 will be on consecutive Wednesdays, starting July 25, from 10 a.m. to noon. All students entering first grade for the first time will be required to have a birth certificate at time of registration. Elk Grove does not have kindergarten and children must be 6 years of age by December 1, 1956 to enter school this fall.

Book fees for the coming year will be as follows: grades 1-3, $6; grades 4-5, $6.50. These fees include weekly readers, which heretofore each child has had to pay individually. Sixth, seventh and eighth grade fees will be $8, which will include Current Events and towel fees.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Adams of Lincoln st. have recently returned from a 2-week vacation in Los Angeles, Calif. They went by train on The Challenger, which was an exciting experience for their sons, Michael and Gerald.

Miss Karen Lemke, daughter of the Charles Lemkes, has returned from a visit to New York.

Ten boy scouts of troop 58 left Saturday for 2 weeks at Camp Napowan, Wild Rose, Wis.

Home From Vacations

The Robert Hutchings family spent a week with friends and relatives in Stevens Point, Wis., then traveled by ferry to Ludington, Mich. From there they visited various spots in Michigan and northern Indiana. In Indiana they visited Mr. Hutchings' aunt Mrs. Elizabeth Kenney, in La Porte.

The W. H. Grismer Jr. family, the Wayne Swearingen family and Karen Angel spent the weekend at Devils Lake, Wis.

Bill Sundblad, Community Activities club sports director, is not collecting newspapers and magazines for the time being. A thank you is extended to everyone who donated paper.

Dennis Bartelt celebrated his 10th birthday Monday afternoon with an outdoor picnic barbecue served to all of his guests. They played games and received prizes. Guests from Elgin and Arlington Heights were Steve Moeller, Jim Gostelle, Ken Wylie, Gordon Steinway, Mike and Jeff Grismer, Randy Wolff, Jim Fruehling, John Ewert, Phillip Ruhnou and Garry Bartelt. Evening guests were Mr. and Mrs. Nels Anderson, Herman Bartelt, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Anderson and daughters, Patsy Lee and Sheryl Ann.

Luncheon guests in the home of Mrs. Frank Brodnan Thursday were Mrs. Christine Brodnan, Sandy Schroeder, Mrs. Julia Luczak, Bonnie, Mrs. James Burton and twirling schools.

Birthday

July 14 was Nicky Molitors ninth birthday, and was celebrated by having several playmates in for cake and ice cream. Present were Danny Spera, Mike Schwinn, Terry Warfsman, Bobby Peterson, Karan Revus and Joey Heckenbach.

Wednesday morning Mrs. William Whitelaw had a surprise party in honor of Mrs. Clyde House's birthday. Coffee and cake were served. Attending were Mrs. Arthur Cisewski, Mrs. Walter Shipp, Mrs. Bruce Corbett, Mrs. Les Schneider and Mrs. James Sailer.

The following evening another surprise party was given Mrs. House, this time at the Les Schneiders, with Mr. and Mrs. Art Cisewski, the William Whitelaws and Mrs. Bruce Corbett attending.

Guests

Mrs. Erling Blast's mother, Mrs. A. Esvang of Chicago, was a guest in the Blast home for several days recently. Last week a young cousin of the Blast children, Robin Esvang, visited with them for most of the week.

Elmer Fessler, one time resident on Biesterfield rd., visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zender Thursday evening. He recently graduated as an electrical technician at Great Lakes naval training center and is moving to Dallas, Texas, where his family will join him from Orlando, Fla.

Mrs. Ted Depalma and the 4 children spent Friday afternoon in the loop, afterward going to dinner in the home of the senior Depalmas in Chicago. Thrill of the day was the train ride to the loop, which was the first for the younger children.

The Steffy children haven't lacked playmates while their cousins have been visiting them this summer. Last week Charles Laufer was their guest and this week 4-year-old Gale Ann, his sister, was the visitor.

Home From Camping Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brezinski, Mary and Mike returned home last Thursday from a 10-day camping trip through Wisconsin to Eagle River, where they visited the children's grandparents. Overnight stops were made in Milwaukee and Blue Mound park, where they saw the cave of the mounds. They also visited the Dells and Copper Falls.

Mrs. Frank Kessler's sister, Mrs. Fred Youngren of Dayton, Iowa, visited with the Kessler family for a few days this week. Mrs. Youngren accompanied Judy when she returned home Sunday morning after a month's visit with relatives and friends in Iowa and Missouri.

Birthdays

Children who celebrate birthdays this week are: Susan Depalma, 9 July 23; Eddie Lumpp, 10 July 27; Valerie Steffy, who will be 9 July 29.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by Bob Paddock

GLEN ROLOFF has always been one of our biggest boosters down Roselle way, always cooperating with us when it was Paddock golf tournament time. He's always been after us to have our tournament "down our way for a change." This year we made the grade, and scheduled the Inter-League Handicap for Roselle golf club, home course for the Roselle league of which Glen is a member.

Glen Roloff

But Glen failed us. Just when he had a chance to outshine the best in the other 9 leagues scheduled to compete Sunday, Aug. 19, Glen's team fell into last place and the only way Glen will get out of the house will be by telling his wife he has to help run the tournament.

Glen did make the headlines, though, when he shot a hole-in-one July 16 at Villa Olivia golf course, the 133 yard 5th hole, doing the job with a 9 iron. Glen's playing partners, and vouching for the hole-in-one were Orville Hodge, William Lydon and Richard Hitzeman of Roselle.

DO YOU GET ANGRY when you see your son in Little League make a mistake? Eddie Joost, manager of San Diego in Pacific Coast league recently walked to the mound to tell his pitcher to walk the next 2 batters. After they walked he again trotted out with more instructions, forgetting the league rule that if a manager walks to the mound twice in the same inning the twirler must be removed.

Relief pitcher wasn't satisfactorily warmed up, came a grand slam homer and a loss for Eddie.

Phil Rizzuto pulled an oldie on Cletis Boyer of the Athletics recently when Boyer led off first on a pop fly to the left side of the infield. Rizzuto went through the motions of fielding a grounder and flipping the ball to Billy Martin, who pivoted as if to throw to first. By the time Boyer realized he had been fooled, Carey tossed the ball to Joe Collins for a double play. And these boys are pros.

OLDEST PLAYER on 1956 Illinois football roster to date is 26-year-old Dale Smith of Georgetown, who will be 26 Nov. 14 . . . On the other end are 18-year-olds Bob Donaldson of Rochelle and Bill Henderson of Cambridge, Ohio . . . Campus scenes on covers of football programs at Illinois will include Smith music hall, electrical engineering building, college of law and natural resources building . . . Poole Ford Pitches Bob Miller, Alan Smeby and Pat Brownell combined efforts to pitch a no-hitter against Park Ridge Jr. Legion Saturday, but lost the game 3-1 due to walks and errors . . . Heights Jr. Legion team lost again Sunday to bow out of county eliminations.

Football is in the air around Arlington with the Chicago Cardinal intrasquad game coming up Aug. 9 . . . Pocket schedules of Cards, Bears, Northwestern, Illinois and Arlington high school Cardinals are being distributed by the local bank to help boost the game.

Drum thumpers have already started to work on the football All-Americans . . . First pick of nation's top grid teams has Oklahoma, Michigan State and Notre Dame leading . . . And football only 2 months away . . . Illinois state cross country meet will be held at Urbana country club Nov. 3 . . . Los Angeles Rams cut their rookie crop from 62 to 36, including Mickey Bates, former Illini . . . Hopalong Cassady is receiving an estimated $15,000 a year from Detroit Lions . . . Bob McDonald of Arlington missed qualifying for the national junior golf championship by 1 stroke . . . Mt. Proospect currently stands sixth in northwest colt league, with Arlington last of 8 teams.

Wauconda's Bob Nolan, is now a member of British Columbia Lions in Canadian pro football league, after graduating from Miami.

New frosh basketball coach at Libertyville is 6-9 Richard Starkey . . . Wisconsin is thinking of dropping its football game with Louisiana State at Baton Rouge in 1957 due to that state's new law prohibiting white and colored athletes from competing against each other . . . Among those reporting to Chicago Bear camp in Indiana is John Deiniger of Arlington Heights.

MAJOR LEAGUE rules permit use of a bat 42" long, but no player has ever used 1 that long . . . Shortest bat ever used, according to Louisville Slugger records, went to Harry Hichman of Cleveland in 1907, with a short average, too, .216 . . . With baseball pensions starting at 50, it will be confession time for many players who've never admitted their correct ages . . . Preacher Roe has already admitted to 40, when last year he was "36" . . . Illini Em Lindbeck, drafted by the Rams, is not listed on the roster and is evidently sticking to baseball at Eau Claire, Wis., instead of trying for the gridiron.

Of the 33 all-state gridders last fall, 24 have selected colleges . . . Going to Illinois will be 11, with Michigan getting 3, Iowa, Michigan State and Notre Dame 2 each, and others going to Auburn, Miami, Fla., Southern Illinois, Wisconsin and DeKalb.

Checking records of that '53 all-state team, 27 will probably be playing "big time football" this fall, with 11 rating a good chance to make first teams in Big Ten . . . Although Stan Musial was hitting about .327 last week, his "Sunday average" was .410 . . . Iowa Hawkeye cage mentor Bucky O'Connor will have appeared in 8 coaching clinics in 5 states by summer's end, and was recently elected president of national collegiate golf coaches associatioon . . . Satch Paige may be back soon with the White Sox.

Arlington's Marv Berschet has signed again with Washington Redskins and was scheduled to report to Occidental college in California Sunday.

Six West Suburban league tennis players are among those competing this week in western junior and boys tennis championships on University of Illinois courts, including state prep singles champ Jim Jeffries of Hinsdale . . . Others include Jon Fischruppe, Donald Thorne and Richard Pease of Hinsdale, and Hugh Czerwonky of Maine.

31 Day Session To Open Monday At Washington Park

Saturday's $100,000 added Arlington Handicap, bringing together the nation's top handicap performers for the nation's richest grass event, drops the curtain on one of Arlington's most successful meetings.

It's appropriate that such ranking handicap stars as Fisherman, Summer Tan, Porterhouse, Mister Gus, Blue Choir, and Sir Tribal, should take the spotlight in Saturday's grand finale.

On Monday, America's finest racing shifts across town to Washington Park for 31 days of more top-level sport, one of America's most colorful race meetings.

C. V. WHITNEY'S game, little Fisherman; Mrs. John W. Galbreath's Summer Tan; the Llangollen Farm due of Mister Gus and Porterhouse; Mrs. Harry L. Nathenson's Irish-bred Blue Choir, and Charles Fritz's "Cinderella" horse, Sir Tribal top a probable 15-horse field.

Others slated for the 1 3/16 miles grass event are Valley Farm's Impasse; Frank C. Rand, Jr.'s Prince Morvi; Yolo Stable's Bezaha; Walmac Farm's Hasseyampa; Robert Lytle's Correlation, and Dixiana Make Ready.

The Handicap shapes up as a coast-to-coast thriller, with the West represented by Porterhouse and Mister Gus; the East by Summer Tan, Fisherman, and Impasse, and the Middle West by Blue Choir and Sir Tribal.

AMERICA'E finest stakes — riders are converging on Arlington Saturday too. Expected to be aboard Mister Gus is Eddie Arcaro; Porterhouse will have Ismael Valenzuela and Eric Guering is flying in to ride Summer Tan.

For the home front, Bill Hartack will ride Blue Choir while jockey Bill Shoemaker has been signed to ride Sir Tribal.

There's no telling who will eventually wind up the favorite by post time. At least four horses—Fisherman, Summer Tan, Blue Choir, and the Llangollen entry—may rule the choice with Sir Tribal not too far behind.

FISHERMAN'S CHIEF claim to grass fame was brought about about two years ago when the courageous Phalanx colt won the Laurel International at 1 ½ miles over a crack field. He's been racing in top form this year, showing a victory in the Macomber Handicap at Suffold, and a second to Nashua in another stakes event.

Summer Tan, the horse who once was considered Nashua's chief rival as a two-year-old two years ago, was second in the Edgemere Handicap last week in New York and figured real high on Saturday's roster.

Blue Choir and Sir Tribal have been racing against one another the past several stakes here, with Sir Tribal turning up the winner in both the Balmoral Turf and the Stars and Stripes handicap here. (SP

Indians, Braves Hold Top Spots In PH Baseball

The Indians of the Pony League and the Braves of the Little League ended a week of successful play in Prospect Heights by retaining the top places in their respective races.

Last place Dodgers made a slight comeback by edging out the Giants 6-5 on Monday, July 16, while the first place Indians advanced their margin over the second place Senators to 1 game by dumping the Dodgers, 6-4, on Wednesday, July 18.

In the Little League race, the Braves started out the week right by walking over the Cards, 15-5, at the Monday, July 16 game. This victory upped the Braves' margin to 1½ games over the second-place Cards. Tuesday, July 17, saw the Sox barely edge the Cubs by an 11-10 score. The battle between the Tigers and Yankees ended in a 13-10 victory for the Tigers on Wednesday, July 18, while Thursday's game was rained out. On Friday, July 20, the Cards regained their strength to slap down their rivals for second place, the Tigers, 5-4. The tie for second place was broken this week with the Cards ahead of the Tigers by ½ game.

Cubs Blank Yanks In MP Pony Loop

by BILL GODMAN

The Cubs, behind Chuck Phelan's 4-hit pitching, administered the first Mt. Prospect Pony League shutout of the year, as they beat the Yanks, 9-0, at Lions Park, July 23.

The Cubs got off to a good start, scoring 6 runs on 6 hits in the first inning off Yankee twirler, Ron Schaffer. After the first inning the Yanks, for the most part, gave a lack-luster performance and showed little hustle on the bases and in the field. Leading the Cub attack was catcher Dick Goeltz with 3 safeties and Blake, Dahlquist, Keith Voight, and Phelan with 2 each. Wayne Lundstrom led the Yanks' feeble assault with 2 singles.

Batteries: Yankees, Schaffer (LP) and Mosiman; Cubs, Phelan (WP) and Goeltz.

Annual Pony League All-Star Tilt At Arlington Saturday

The annual Arlington Heights Pony League All-Star game will be played Saturday, July 28, on the northwest diamond at Recreation Park at 2 p.m. In case of rain, it will be played same time, same place, on August 4.

Teams will be made up of 5 players, selected by their teammates, from each of the 6 clubs. Players from teams finishing in first, fourth, and fifth positions will compete against boys from teams finishing in second, third, and sixth positions.

Since, at this writing final standings are still in doubt, the makeup of the teams is indefinite. However, first and second places have been cinched by the Browns and Hawks respectively. Paul Tossman, first place team manager, and Bill Heitz, second place team manager, will be the heads of the 2 teams.

THE BOYS selected, their team and their managers are as follows:

BROWNS: Manager Paul Tossman; Don Gerken, Paul McNurlen, Tom Clark, Dave Kussow and Ron Weber; HAWKS: Manager Bill Heitz; Roland Kehe, Bob Inman, Frank Zizlavsky, Fred Empkie, Jim Kennedy, John Beckman, alternate; ORIOLES: Manager Gene Hartman; Bill Lips, Frank Hermes, Ron Hosek, Dave Hosek, Dave Beckway, Denny Hartman; INDIANS: Manager Jack Mutti; Don Snell, Ken Dougan, Steve Scott, Fred Lussow, Chuck Rehfeldt.

REDLEGS: Manager Bob Hutchinson; Dave Brodnan, Cliff Scholl, Nick Tuttle, Lonnie Moellentine, Jon Benrud; PHILLIES: Manager George Cole; Phil Gustafson, Skipper Witt, Ken Mueller, Craig Hartman, Dick Passmore.

Two of the All-Star players, Ken Dougan and Jim Kennedy, were awarded certificates of membership into the "Order of the Holy Bat." Both boys pitched no-hitters during the season.

MP Sox Nip Yanks; Tourney Team Wins

by BETTY KIRCHHOFF

On July 18 the Mt. Prospect Sox came back from a week layoff from league play to beat a scrappy Yankee team, 5-4, in the Mt. Prospect Pony League.

The game was a nip and tuck battle all the way with the Yanks scoring the first run in their half of the first frame. After Kobi reached first on a fielder's choice, Schaeffer walked and then Mark Thorne sent a solid single to right to score Kobi from second.

Yankee hurler Kobi held the Sox for the first 3 innings, then in the last of the third, aided his own cause by sending a long homer to left with Staral and Koester aboard. As the Sox came to bat in the top of the fourth, they found themselves 4 runs down but started a small rally to push across 1 run as Bork singled after McMillan led off with a double.

DENNY HAHN, Sox hurler, held the Yanks in the fourth and fifth and his mates came back with 4 runs in the sixth. After Kobi struck out 1 man, Tom Henkel doubled and then Hahn flied out to left. With 2 out, Boedeker singled, Peterson drew a walk and McMillan sent a long drive that got past the outfielders to score the winning runs.

The Yanks were still not ready to give up as Schaeffer, Thorne, and Lundstrom, sent out 3 straight singles. On Lundstrom's single Bill McMillan fired to the plate to get pinch runner Bill Alfini on a close play. George Bork then came in to retire the next 2 batters on strikeouts.

Losing pitcher Kobi pitched great ball, allowing 7 hits, 2 very costly ones to McMillan, while fanning 6 and walking 2. Denny Hahn gave up 1 less hit than Kobi and evened his walk and strikeout count.

OUT OF ACTION for the Yanks was starting catcher John Dempsey who broke his ankle in a previous game. Replacing him voluntarily was Fred Mosiman who caught a superb game considering his little experience.

Gene Dahlquist walked 1 batter and struck out 9 in allowing the same number of hits as the Mt. Prospect tournament team whipped Avylon, 13-2. The 2 Avylon runs came in the sixth on adouble and 2 singles. George Bork led his team in the hitting department with 3 hits in as many tries. Henkel, Kobi, Boedeker, and McMilan, getting 2 hits apiece, helped the cause.

The team from Mt. Prospect looked good as they breezed to victory. Their next game will be played at the Lexon A. C. Field, 5101 Lexington, near Harrison and Laramie, on Saturday. Rooters are urged to come out and cheer the boys to victory.

The tourney team consists of boys from all 4 teams in the league. The manager is Fred Peterson with Chuck Zadel and Oliver McMillan as coaches. Members of the squad are: Mark Thorne, Jeff Kobi, Chuck Staral, John Koester, Tom Henkel, Fritz Peterson, George Bork, Fred Boedeker, Bob Leekley, Bill McMillan, Denny Hahn, Rich Christiansen, Al Kruse, Gene Dahlquist, and Keith Voight. Batboy is Fran Ritchie.

Dates Announced For LL Playoffs In Arlington Hts.

Village champions of the Major, Intermediate, and Junior Little Leagues will be decided next week, according to the public relations department of the Arlington Heights Little League.

The Majors' champs will be decided in a best-2-of-3 playoff starting on Monday, July 30, at 6 p.m. at the Jr. high school diamond. The second tilt will be played on the northwest diamond at Recreation Park at 6 p.m. on August 1. Should a third game be necessary, play will return to the Jr. high school diamond on August 3 at 6 p.m. This series will be played between the Red Sox of the American League and the Cardinals of the National division.

INTERMEDIATE league champs will be decided in a single game playoff on July 31 at 6 p.m. on the northeast diamond at Recreation Park. The first place teams have not as yet been decided.

The Junior League champs will be the winner of a single game playoff on August 2 at 6 p.m. on the northwest diamond at Recreation Park. At this writing the first place teams had not as yet been decided.

Should rain cause postponement of any game or games, all remaining tilts will be moved back 1 or more days as necessitated by such postponements. (Sp

Cardinals Clinch NL Championship In Arlington Action

by BOB FRISK

The major news in an abbreviated week of action in Arlington's Little Leagues was Cardinals' undisputed claim to the National division crown.

Runner-up 2 summers ago for the overall Arlington title, the Cards joined the Little League Red Sox and Pony League Browns as champs of the 3 summer baseball leagues. Now, the main item of business left is filling out the schedule and the post-season playoffs.

Tom Benson and Jimmy Nelson combined talents to set down the Cubs, 3-2, July 20, to give the Cards the 1956 NL championship. The duo allowed only 4 hits in besting a pair of good hurlers, Tom Klement and Frank Harris.

THE CUBS jumped off to a quick 2-0 lead in the second frame, then the Cards knotted the count in the third. The deciding tally came in the home half of the fifth with Harris on the mound to take the loss. Nelson gained the victory for the new National League champs.

Cubs	020 000—2-4
Cardinals	002-01*—3-6

Batteries: Cubs, Klement, Harris LP) and Petersen and Klement; Cards, Benson, Nelson (WP) and Staahl.

Three Pony League games made up half of the week's action in all 3 Arlington divisions.

THE BROWNS, with Dave Kussow on the mound and doing a masterful job as did the Indians' Ken Dougan, were involved in a 1-1 tie, July 17. Kussow fanned 19 in the 7 inning affair and allowed only 2 hits and Dougan twirled a neat 5-hitter.

Browns	000 100 0—1-5
Indians	001 000 0—1-2

Bill Bennett and Jim Kennedy combined efforts to blank the Phils 3-0, July 18, to insure the Hawks of second place in the Pony League. The Hawks counted a single run in the second, then came back with a pair in the fourth.

Hawks	010 200—3-5

Batteries: Hawks, Bennett (WP), Kennedy, and Empkie; Phillies, Passmore (LP), O'Hagen.

THE BROWNS finally lost another ball game, July 29, when the Orioles slapped down the 1956 champs, 9-4. The Browns' big "two", Don Gerken and Dave Kussow, took a day off pitching-wise and Ronnie Weber and O'Connell toiled, allowing only 3 hits but 9 runs. Ron Hosek yielded 2 hits for the Orioles.

Orioles	300 60—9-3
Browns	100 03—4-2

Batteries: Orioles, Hosek (WP) and Sckolski; Browns, Weber (LP), O'Connell and Schumann.

Thill Breaks Wrist In Practice Session

Denny Thill, versatile infielder and pitcher on the Arlington Jr. Legion baseball team, became the third member of the casualty list for the summer when he broke his left wrist in Tuesday's practice session at Recreation Park. Thill, who will be a junior at Arlington this fall, will be sidelined for the remainder of the campaign.

The first member of the Fords to suffer the injury jinx this summer was Al Hutchinson, second baseman, who broke a finger in the first Winnetka game, Jerry Klement, rangy first sacker, suffered a laceration of the upper lip in a mishap in infield practice prior to the second Portage Park contest. Both boys are back on the roster now and in the staring lineup.

Country Club Wins, 12-2

The Country Club rolled over the Professionals, 12-2, July 21, in the Mt. Prospect Little League behind an 8-hit attack, led by LaRocca with 3 safeties.

Collecting the 4 hits for the Professionals were Hay, Griffiths, Johnston, and Sanders while Koester, Gleich, Coey, Lylle, and LaRocca did the hitting for the victors. Gleich had 2 safeties. The game was called at the end of the fifth inning because of rain.

Boca Raton Tops Oak Brook, 10-9

Oak Brook Polo club's 25-goal team was unable to overcome a 4-point handicap Sunday afternoon when they met Boca Raton of Delray Beach, Fla., at home. Capt. Paul Butler's Silver and Blue dropped the contest 10—9.

Don Beveridge, of Detroit, Mich., captain of the Triple C club, current national champions, saw action with Oak Brook and knocked through 5 goals to top scoring honors. Ten-goaler Cecial Smith smashed through 4.

Oak Brook's 4 points in the last 3 chukkers fell short of victory as Boca Raton managed to earn a total of 10 points on goals by Oliver and Bob Beveridge in the fourth period.

THE TIGERS are currently settled in fifth place but they have a chance to move into fourth before the season ends in the American League of the Arlington Heights Little League.

Park Ridge Checks Fords' Bid For 9th District Crown

by BOB FRISK

Arlington's bid for a berth in the Cook County Jr. Legion baseball playoffs came to an abrupt end Sunday afternoon after 2 days of a series of unfortunate incidents for the local 9. Park Ridge A won 3-1 and 2-1 decisions for the ninth district title.

A disputed double by Park Ridge's Bob Gruber may have kept Arlington out of the playoffs, but even that took a back seat to the strange outcome of Saturday's affair at the Maine high school diamond.

In the initial game of the best-of-3 series for the district title Arlington's 3 pitchers—Bob Miller, Al Smeby, and Pat Brownell—combined to hurl a no-hitter and still lose, 3-1! This wouldn't be so hard to envision in Little League or Pony League ball where errors and walks are a common reason for losing no-hitters, but in Jr. Legion ranks, with most of the boys in their latter years of high school, it's almost an unheard of situation —especially the number of runs.

THEN, TO ADD to the misfortunes of the Poole Fords, Park Ridge went 6 more innings in the second game with only 1 bunt single, yet won, 2-1, with a tally in the top half of the eighth inning off a tiring Smeby.

Park Ridge will open play in the Cook County playoffs Saturday at Chicago Heights, meeting Skokie at 1 p.m. The second game in the afternoon will pit a strong Maywood club, generally conceded as the favorite, and Argo. Skokie advanced to the finals with 4-0, and 14-0 victories over St. Phillip; Argo knocked off Jackson Park, 8-4 and 2-0; and Maywood routed Chicago Heights, 17-2 and 6-0. The ninth district winner drew a bye and didn't have to enter the first round of eliminations.

Let's start with the second game of the Arlington-Park Ridge series in reporting a strange weekend of baseball.

ARLINGTON had to win this contest to stay in the running for the loop crown and Smeby, a right hander who had compiled some amazing marks over the summer campaign, was called on by Manager Lloyd Meyer to face Tony Scheer, a well-respected southpaw.

In 46 innings of toiling this summer before the weekend series Smeby had struck out 79 and walked only 14 and he started out Sunday's contest in much the same manner. Eight of the first 13 Park Ridge batters went down on strikes with only 1 safety—a bunt single by Bob Gruber. As it turned out, Gruber is the big reason Heights won't be making the trip to Chicago Heights this weekend.

The local Fords tallied in the second frame to take a 1-0 lead. Ed Meinken led off with the first of his 2 line singles to center and ultimately scored on a wild pitch. Neither team got a runner past second after Heights' first counter until Park Ridge pushed over the tying counter in the final inning.

GRUBER LED off the frame with his disrupted blow, a drive to left field which was curving foul as it left his bat. The umpire called the ball fair although several fans, including a partison Park Ridge following, attested to the fact that the ball was foul by at least 2 feet. With 2 men on and nobody out—Scheer got on via an error—Hank Gerfen punched a single through a pulled in infield to tie the score, 1-1. Smeby then got the next batter on a fly to left and struck out Jim Nauman and Ken Engh to end the segment.

Arlington failed to score in its half of the seventh although advancing a runner to second. Meinken, who is showing signs of developing into a good consistent hitter, led off with another sharp single but he was cut down as Lee Magnuson attempted to sacrifice. Magnuson then stole second but was stranded as Jerry Klement and Bob Miller fanned.

The deciding inning for Park Ridge started with Schnaedter flying out to right field. Vic Pagel struck out and things looked good for the locals, but then Jerry Dixon walked and Mr. Gruber lashed a long double to left center, driving in Dixon with the tally that decided the ninth district title. Heights advanced a runner to second in the eighth but couldn't bring him in.

IN THE LIDLIFTER of the weekend series Miller started out in good form, then ran into an ailment so common with lefthanders —he couldn't find the plate. Five walks brought in the first 2 runs of the contest and Al Smeby finally came in to put out the fire. Pat Brownell finished up for Heights, taking over in the fourth, and pitched hitless ball with an error, following a walk, bringing in Park Ridge's third and final run in the sixth.

Dan Vittum opened up Arlington's half of the fifth and he got on with a hard hit ball to first. Dan then stole second and came home on Meinken's single.

Gruber captured the decision for Park Ridge with Miller absorbing his second loss of the season.

Wednesday, July 25, Arlington was slated to host a strong Berwyn nine with a game at Berwyn today (Thursday). The locals are scheduled to move into a consolation round elimination with a few ninth district teams. The winner of this district round will enter Cook county's consolation round championship where Arlington advanced to the semi-finals in '55 before bowing to Blue Island.

Redwings Top Vets On Meyer's Single

The Arlington Heights Redwings scored a close victory over the tough and colorful Chicago Vets last Sunday at Recreation Park. The game was a thriller and the Redwings came from behind and pushed over the tying and winning runs in the ninth inning for their second straight league triumph. The final score was 3-2 and the good-sized crowd went home happy and pleased by the unexpected turn of events.

The end came with great suddenness as Dick Sassi, 3rd baseman, drove a deep single to left and took second on catcher Don Sange's perfect sacrifice bunt. Pitcher Bud Blumenthal rapped a line single to right and continued to second on the throw to the plate as Sassi scored. Lloyd Meyer, who has been playing great ball at the keystone sack all season, blasted the game-winning hit to left and that was that.

Vets drew first blood in the fifth inning on a triple, a walk, and a single and then they were through for the day. They were confident of adding to their winning streak in which this classy colored nine swept to consecutive wins over the Kolskis, Oak Park, and a frightening 16-6 massacre of Worth A. C. the last week.

THE REDWINGS' other run was made in the fifth as Bob Mazone, who was an outstanding performer for Maine high 2 years ago, walked and went to second as Blumenthal was thrown out by Jessup, the Vets' burly pitcher. Mazone counted on another hit by Meyer.

The Redwing infield sparkled on several plays and again showed the fans why it is known and respected around the entire Chicago area as one of the finest defensive units to perform in semipro baseball. Catcher Don Stange did his usual fine job of handling the would-be base-stealers as well as directing the pitching. The Vets had a mere 6 hits and never did threaten except for the 2-run fifth. Stange has a great throwing arm and few enemy runners attempt to steal for this reason. Also Don has picked several runners off of second including 2 in the recent Oak Park game.

Dick Bokelmann was unable to pitch since he was selected to hurl for Lockport in the state tournament and responded with a great 4-hit 5-1 win over a highly-regarded Rockford club. Dick will pitch for Lockport again this week and will again play the outfield unless he is sufficiently well rested to charge the mound.

SUNDAY the Redwings travel to Skokie to battle the Skokie Indians. Game time is 2:30 and the fireworks will take place at Oakton Park located at Oakton and Cicero or Skokie hwy. This season the 2 teams have split a pair with the Redwings winning a classic 13-inning 1-0 affair on Memorial Day and then getting clobbered by the Indians 7-3 on July 4.

The Kolski Boosters are currently on top in the Greater Chicago semipro loop with a 7-4 record. The Redwings are right on their heels with 8-5 followed by Oak Park, Skokie and the Vets. All teams have only 8 remaining games except for Worth and Kolskis who have to make 2 rainouts. Thus every game is a must win from now on if the Redwings are to bring the league title to Arlington Heights.

4 Races Still Undecided In Arlington Heights Minors

There's still no indication on just what teams will claim the 4 championships in Arlington's Minor Leagues. The division races just get closer every week.

As of the week ending July 21, the only team with a little breathing room was the Millers who compiled a 9½—3½ mark with the second place Bisons holding a 9—5 slate. Here's the way the other leaders stack up against the runner-up clubs: the Comets are a game on top of the Redbirds; the Dons are a game in front of the Stars, and the Spartans are a half game ahead of the Angels.

In the initial action of the week's reports the Broncs and Comets battled to a 1—1 tie, July 21, with a combined total of only 3 hits in the abbreviated 4 inning affair. In another Northside Intermediate tilt the Redbirds' Ronnie Gordon hurled a no-hitter in setting down the Comets, 11—1. The The tilt was featured by a grand slam homer by Wayne Thompson in the third frame.

THE STARS, Dons, and Seals picked up wins in the Southside Intermediate loop with 8—7, 8—1, and 6-1 victories respectively.

Two little moundsmen put on a real strikeout show, July 17, when the Blues edged the Badgers, 2—1. Zakubiac and Greg Inman combined to fan 30 batters in the sixth inning affair with Zakubiac winning the contest on a yield of only 2 hits. In another Northside Juniors contest the Sox rapped the Bisons, 10—5.

The Southside Juniors division was featured by some heavy-hitting with the Beavers and Angels picking up wins, the Beavers taking 2 decisions over the Spartans and Buckeyes. The conquest of the Spartans was a 15—12 performance, July 16, with Busch gaining the mound decision. Brunner had no trouble picking up a win, July 18, as the Angels pounded out an impressive 25—6 victory over the Oaks, collecting 15 hits. In the final report of the week the Beavers slapped down the Buckeyes, 10—6, with Lindstrom getting the decision. (SP

by G. A. McELROY

DURING RECENT WEEKS while we have been on vacation out on the coast in the Los Angeles area the daily topic of sport columnists has been criticism of the Pacific Coast conference for punishing violations of league rules. Los Angeles sports writers, alumni of UCLA and USC, former athletes of the schools, and even Governor Knight have been in the headlines or quoted on the conference mess as they call it. Los Angeles writers have been almost hysterical and fanatical in their attack on the university presidents and faculty representatives and are advocating that the school leave the conference and free lance or form a California league. Responsible officials of the schools take a less radical view and hope to work things out to tone down the drastic penalties meted out by the conference representatives but they are not likely to retract the penalties and more likely will extend them to more schools instead.

If you have not been reading about this trouble it is a case of football players getting more than $75.00 as financial aid for going to school. Overzealous alumni in recruiting athletes have been bidding higher and as a result the conference is going to make ineligible for one year more than 75 athletes at UCLA and University of Southern Californa.

In addition UCLA loses 3 years of opportunity to be in the Rose Bowl and USC loses 2 years. Both lose their share of the Rose Bowl receipts divided among conference members which averages about $25,000 a year. Washington got a penalty of 2 years out of the Rose Bowl while the University of California student athletic fund was fined $25,000 and athletes there who were "loaned" too much money must pay it back to regain eligibility.

ACCORDING TO THE LA PRESS all the schools have been violating the league rules. They say that just because UCLA and USC have better teams the confernce wants to beat them down. Of course those better teams were gained through outbidding other schools for the choice California gridiron talent.

Pacific Coast league is made up of schools having a great range in enrollment and different athletic philosophy. There is a great deal of jealousy. The Northwest schools of Oregon, Washington State, and Idaho are jealous of the domination of the southern California schools with their high powered recruiting system, wealthy alumni, large gate receipts and annual participation in the Rose Bowl.

California schools would rather play big intersectional games than schedule the poor drawing cards from the northwest and then have to share receipts with them.

The Big Ten schools are no doubt just as guilty of the same things that certain Pacific Coast schools are being punished for doing. We are sure that the Big Ten code is about the same, an unrealistic set of rules which are broken wholesale. Ohio State has been banned from the Rose Bowl but no athletes have been punished because it was through trouble with an outside school. The Big Ten has even competition, most of the schools have the same philosophy, and are somewhere near equal size. All schools occasionally win a championship in some spot. All aid athletes, probably more than the rules say, but there will be no blow up as on the coast as none are jealous enough to risk wrecking the league.

THE LA PRESS defend the athletes in getting more than $75.00 a month on the basis that the cost of living is so much higher than it used to be. Ernie Nevers, the great All-American fullback who starred at Stanford and was tops in the pro league for years states he waited on tables for expenses at Stanford in his day and got no cash allowances. His idea is that if kids who get $75.00 a month can own cars at school that the cost of living angle is not an argument.

Actually the expense allowances to college athletes are not based on how much it costs to live but what it will take to get the really good athlete away from the other schools bidding for his services. The athletes know they are being paid to play football and that it is a violation of the league and school rules.

It seems to us if a conference is going to have a set of rules or a code it should be one they feel is fair and can live by, and they will enforce to the limit. We think athletes are developing a false set of values from the rule breaking going on. It certainly does not breed respect for law and order. There is too much of this attitude today that anything you can get away with is o. k.

IT GOES FARTHER in some institutions than giving financial help. Some give athletes watered down courses or fix it so the athletes pass and are eligible for athletics. The Big 10 is less guilty of this sort of thing than schools in the south and some of thesmaller institutions who get more than their share of the athletes who are slow mentally. We do not believe in pampering athletes and we certainly do not believe in discriminating against them.

The good athlete who is a good student and needs help to go to college is certainly just as deserving of help as the good musician, the good actor, or a leader in some other line. We would not be very much worried about aid to athletes as long as the school maintains good scholastic standards.

We think it is a mistake for high school coaches to encourage boys to do a lot of bidding for the best deal. School people ought to help the boys select a school best suited to the career the young men desire to pursue. Whether we like it or not colleges are going to become more and more selective in the future because the high schools are about to graduate a lot more students than ever before and many more than the colleges can handle.

Rookies Stand Out In Cardinals' Camp

There's a definite degree of optimism revolving around the crop of rookies currently working out for the Chicago Cardinals at the Lake Forest College training camp.

Of course it's early but head coach Ray Richards and aides, Bob Nowaskey, Charley Trippi, Chuck Drulis, and Wally Lemm, feel they have some rugged, talented, outstanding lads to chase some of the veterans for starting positions.

Speediest of them all is Alex Burl, the halfback from Fort Ord and Colorado A&M; the dusky flash who ran the 100-yard dash in 9.3 seconds in an Army track meet in California early last month. Alex can go either way, offensively or defensively, and looks good both ways.

OTHERS WHO have been particularly impressive in the 2 drills daily since the opening of the drills are ends Willis Towne (Wichita) and Charles Anderson (Louisiana Tech), both being fine pass receivers and Anderson also being a tough defensive flanker; tackles Doug Hogland (vet from S. F. 49ers), Gordon Grown (Louisiana Tech) and Bob Lovely (U. of Tampa); guards Ed Husmann and Dave Suminski (members of the Cards in 1953 and in Service the past 2 seasons) and rookies John Dittrich (Wisconsin) and Bill Kucera (Colorado); centers Ralph Carrigan (Alabama and Oak Park, Ill.), Don Karnoscak (Colorado and native of Chicago) and Charles Zickefoose (Kansas State). The latter is listed as an end but looks real good as a pivot man.

Dittrich and Joe Childress, the Cards' No. 1 draft choice who looked terrific in early workouts, are practicing with the college All-Stars who will play against the Cleveland Browns in the All-Star game.

The Cards' first action under game conditions will take place August 9 in the high school stadium at Arlington Heights when they play an intra-sqquad game for charity. The pro club 10 starts a tour which includes 6 pre-season games, meeting the Chicago Bears in the Gator Bowl, Jacksonville, Fla., August 18; the Detroit Lions in Ladd Memorial Stadium, Mobile, Ala., Aug. 25; the 49ers in Kezar Stadium, San Francisco, Sept. 2; the Rams in Memorial Stadium, Los Angeles, Sept. 7; the Green Bay Packers in Busch Stadium, St. Louis, Sept. 15, and the New York Giants in Crump Stadium, Memphis, Sept. 21.

Wilson's 38, Sauer's Net 32 Pales Arlington CC Leaders

L-Nor Cleaners, led by Capt. Bill Wilson's 38 and Vern Sauer's net 32, opened their lead in the Arlington Country Club Friday night league to 3½ points by taking 4 points from the tough Arlington Pharmacy team. Wheeling Lumber, only a half point out of first place when they started out Friday, ran into a real buzzy saw with the third place Arlington Floor. When the smoke cleared, the lumbermen had only 1 point to show. Cameron's boys are only 1½ points behind now.

Riviera Tavern, which has been in the thick of things all year, had one of its good nights as it walloped Union Tavern for 5 points, dropping the latter to eighth place. Prospect Heights Pharmacy could salvage only 2 points as Gunnells boys, led by Capt. Jauman, showed the pill rollers why they are in fifth place.

THE REAL ROUT was administered by Grigsby-Allison who used the whitewash brush over Webber Paint, taking all 6 points to move within 4 points of fifth place. Only 1½ points separated the 4 middle teams.

Sylvia Flowers showed some of its former power by gaining on Arlington Furniture. Larry Engelking issued a warning to the rest of the league Friday night. Last year Sylvia's won everything in the league plus shooting in the Paddock Tournament.

Low gross was shot by Bill Wilson with a nice 38. Low net was shared by 2 number 4 men, K. Ventura and V. Sauer, with 32's. Al Walters, better known for his bowling prowess, missed a double eagle by 6 inches on the long fifth hole.

Black's Regains Lead In Arlington League

Black's Memorial team took a 1½ point lead over Schiller Carpet Friday night to place first in a very close race for the right to represent the Arlington golf league in the Paddock tournament.

Low gross honor for the night was won by alternate Botterman who shot a 38 playing for C. Staadt, number 1 man for the Black Memorial team. Botterman also shared low net honors with another alternate, C. Crain, playing for Webber of the Jahns team. Both had a low net of 32. Birdies were plentiful, 9 in all, shot by Rogers on 9, Kleinhofen on 5, Eiler on 1, Andrup on 3, Ackerman on 7, Blaar, Panek and Fuhr on 11 and Crain on 12.

Chennault Joins O'Hare Lineup

by BUD BOOTH

Stars of midget auto racing from all parts of these United States continue to flock to O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim rd. (Route 45) and Irving Pard rd. (Route 19) to seek their shares of the $1,500 purses posted for each Friday evening of racing by the small, power-packed cars.

Latest nationally known speedster to join the O'Hare lineup is Billy Chennault, stock car, hot rod and midget racing champion from Kansas City, Mo. Drivers have also been attracted from such other distant points as California, Colorado, Ohio and Michigan to date.

Chicagoland is amply represented too with such favorites as Lloyd Janke and Ernie Zartler of the Windy City, Bob Ellingham of Blue Island, Byron Fisher of Harvey, Jim Haynes of Homewood, Rib Hare of Cicero and many more competing for top honors weekly.

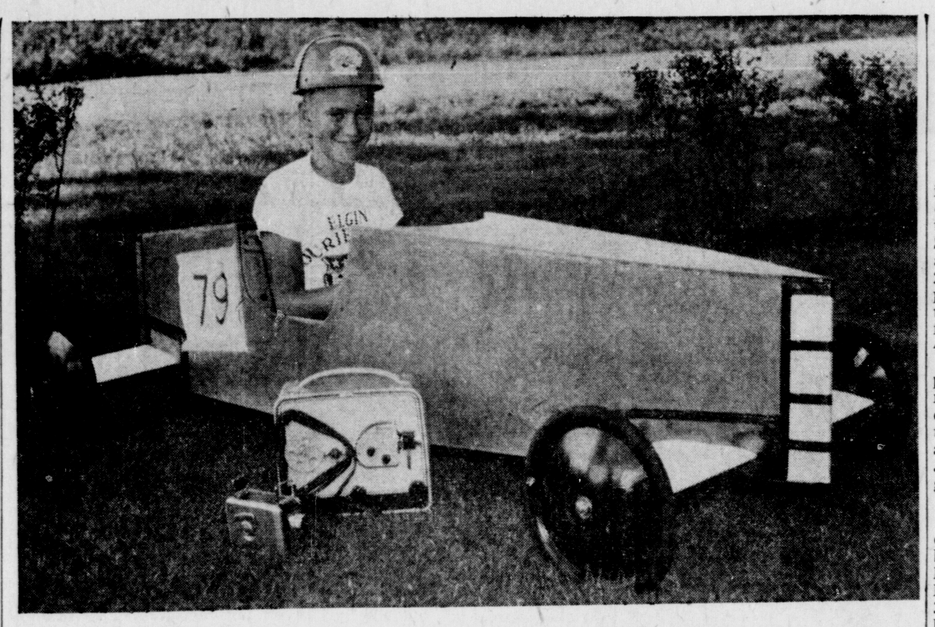
FROM WISCONSIN have come Ed Brock of Waterloo, Frank Conner, Landy Scott and Don Boorse of Milwaukee, Bill Horstmeyer and Owen Snyder of Madison and Don Jones, Billy Wood and Mike Ladd of Kenosha.

Many of these leading drivers pilot speedy cars powered with the famous Offenhauser engines that have won all Indianapolis 500 mile Memorial Day classics in recent years. Time trials begin at O'Hare at 6:30 p.m. with starting line at 8:30.

Late model stock cars compete around the highly banked asphalt racing surface at O'Hare every Thursday and Sunday night. The big event coming up Sunday, July 29, wil lbe a 50-lap midseason championship race for these cars. The usual card of preliminary events will also be held.



SOAP BOX DERBY awards are getting to be commonplace in the George Moore house at 202 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights, where 13-year-old Terry just won third place of 55 cars competing at Elgin Sunday. Terry did win a movie camera and projector, shown above next to his entry. Sunday's winner will compete in the national finals at Akron, Ohio.

Terry's folks get around quite a bit, with Terry winning 2 heats at Detroit in '54 and 3 heats at Hackensack, N. J., in '55. That same year his brother, Denny, was Class A champ in New Jersey. Denny is now '15 and can no longer compete in the soap box derbies, open to youngsters 11-15 years of age. Terry built his car himself, with the back solid wood. Total weight is 247 pounds, just 3 under the limit. —Staff photo

One Week Left For Golfers To 'Make' Paddock Tourney

Next week will determine just which teams in 10 twilight golf leagues are eligible for Paddock Publications seventh annual Inter-League Handicap golf tournament. First place teams as of Saturday, August 4, will be eligible for the tournament at Roselle golf club Sunday, August 19.

Several leads changed hands this week as golfers vied for top spots "the right week" as far as the tourney is concerned.

A week ago Schiller Carpet held a half point lead over Black's Memorial in Arlington golf league at Mt. Prospect. Funeral team moved ahead by 1½ Friday night with 2 nights of competition left before August 4.

GLUECKERT'S LOUNGE, tied with Rapp's Big Freeze in St. James league, went into a 2 point lead this week, with competition July 25 possibly already changing this.

Glueckert's Passes Rapp's Big Freeze In St. James Golf

Glueckert's Lounge passed Rapp's Big Freeze in the battle for first place in the St. James Holy Name twilight golf league. The lounge held a 2-point margin as of the July 18 standings. Black's Memorial Home and Foster's Department Store were settled in third and fourth respectively although only 4 points separated eighth place Rolle King from the third slot.

Two teams have already cinched things: Team "A" of Arlington VFW league will represent that loop. Cork and Bottle holds a 6 point margin in Old Orchard Scratch league and leads a pack of 7 others who could represent that group.

Just what has been happening in Bensenville VFW league is unknown to this writer, with the boys from DuPage county evidently mysteriously planning a surprise for their opponents.

Moler's Barber Shop still looms as the favorite to cop the Paddock Tourney berth in the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect golf league, but 6 teams are still in the running. As of July 17 standings, Moler's had a 6½ point margin over runner-up Mt. Prospect Jewelers.

ENTRY FEES of $12 per 4-man team are due in with entries Saturday, August 11, though tourney promoters are hoping league secretaries will turn them in as early as possible for adequate promotion. Actual naming of league entries is up to league officers, particularly in case of ties, vacations, etc.

One thing sure, there is likely to be at least 1 golfer of the 149 who have participated in the previous 6 events to be in the tourney for the third time. A quick glance at the records for statistically-minded golfers reveals 23 men who've made the grade twice.

OUTSTANDING GOLFER of this group, the man on 2 championship teams, is Bob Hornbostel, whose teams won both the 1954 and 1955 tournaments. Those 2 firsts would certainly qualify him No. 1 individually from standpoint of positions.

Close behind is Jim Driscoll who finished first in '52 and second in '55. Next is Ed Maha with a first in 1951 and a third in '52. The late Gene Gutnik was next with a third in '50 and a second in '51.

Interestingly enough, if you're still with us, greatest years for "repeats" were '53 and '54 with 7 and 6 men coming back for more. Here's the list of 23 golfers who've competed in more than 1 tournament, with team finish in each case.

Glen Roloff, 2nd-54, 8th-55.
Harold Thorsell, 1st-53, 8th-55.
Gene Gutnik, 3rd-50, 2nd-51.
Jack Patheal, 5th-50, 1st-51.
Ed Maha, 1st-51, 3rd-52.
Art Skelton, 5th-50, 3rd-52.
Otto Anderson, 6th-51, 3rd-53.
Art Orwiller, 6th-50, 3rd-53.
Bill Hartman, 1st,52, 5th-53.

Regains Rob Roy Thursday Golf Lead

Webber Paint Store nosed Jacobs Hardware out of first place by ½ point to lead the Rob Roy Ladies' Thursday golf league. For the past 4 weeks these 2 teams have been changing first and second place standings. Also Arlington Heights Pharmacy took third place away from O'Hare Stadium by 3½ points.

Old Orchard Ladies

Winners of the July 24 special event—puttless less ½ handicap—in the Old Orchard Ladies golf league were Virginia Summers, Pat Fenner, Lon Gross, and Violet Foy.

Golf Race Tightens In Old Orchard Scratch

Eight individual matches ended in ties in the Friday night Old Orchard Scratch league, indicating the close race among the teams. Smith and Dawson, however, managed to collect 2 wins besides their 2 ties from Webber Paint to compile 5 points. This was enough to tie them with M. W. Kamps Signs for second place in the league with 41½ points.

Still in first place with 47½ points, Cork & Bottle took a trimming at the hands of Flaherty Jewelers to salvage only ½ point in the person of A. Griffith playing against S. Raulworth. Wins for F. J. were made by A. Harris, D. Hager, and A. Baron.

PARKWAY LOST a little ground, dropping from third to fourth place by getting only 2½ points to M.W. Kamps' 3½. J. Keeley led M. W. Kamps to tie with B. Kronn with a 37. It was a close match with both birding the tough sixth hole.

Only 10 points separate the teams from second place to tenth with the first place team 6 points ahead of the pace. With 2 weeks of play before Paddock Tourney time, any of the top 10 are in contention.

Ben Riley the golf pro and manager of Old Orchard Golf Course, entered the 2 lowest average players of the Friday night golf league to the qualifying rounds of the World Championship tournament at Tam-O-Shanter in August. Len Arnold and A. Harris lead the league for low average.

Arlington VFW Golf

Team "A" still holds a commanding lead in the Arlington VFW golf league with team "G" in second spot. Bob Carr had low gross 40 and tied "Estelle" Baranowski for low net 35. The league leader has clinched the Paddock Tournament berth. The league wishes that members please turn in their cards for the banquet by next Monday.

Moler's Increases Golf Lead In Mt. Prospect Tuesday Play

Moler's Barber Shop golfers moved ahead of Mt. Prospect Jewelers on July 10 in the Tuesday twilight golf league at Mt. Prospect Country Club. The barber shoppers maintained their lead by increasing the margin of safety from 2½ to 6½ points on July 17. As the August 4 qualifying date for the August 19 Paddock Tournament approaches, it is possible that any of the first 6 teams may be in the running.

Since the league's last report, Rollie Becker, Fadaro's Restaurant A player, and Al Barco, A player on Moler's team, carded 2 birdies each. Becker conquered the first and fifth on July 3 while Barco registered on number 10 and birdied the 13th hole on July 17.

The 2 most modest youngsters in the Tuesday league, Red "Whispering Smith" Barrow and Emmett "Chatterbox" Kraybill, are secretly anxious to see their names in print. Since they are not playing sub-par golf consistently, they deserve recognition as being fathers of daughters. This is a gentle reminder by the league of the Fathers and Sons or Daughters Tournament on Sunday, July 29, starting at 2:00 p.m. To facilitate planning, contact Len Johnson Jr., CL 3-5185, as this is the last special event prior to the September 18th league playoff.

Arlington Seating Co. Takes Softball Lead

With 6 league victories and 9 wins in the season's play, the Arlington Heights Seating Co. softball team is currently setting the pace in the Fox Valley league by 2 full games.

Making up the Seating Company's squad are pitchers Dick Hoffman and Pete Abramson; catcher Bobby Dieber, first baseman Harry Griffith, second baseman Vern Richmeier, shortstop Don Richmeier, third baseman Elmer Dreiling, and in the outfield, Chuck Bencic, Wayne Hesch, and Elmer Hoeft. Jim Weiland is the utility man with Don Richmeier acting as manager.

In a recent contest the local squad was behind 8-2 in the early stages but finally fought back to whip the Crystal Lake Moose, 12-8. Abramson, who has 2 no-hitters to date, hurled hitless ball after the third frame to record the victory. Pete's 2 no-hitters this summer have been against the Fox River Grove club and the Northwood Mink Farm. (SP

Mid-Season Event At O'Hare Sunday

by BUD BOOTH

An outstanding field of 1955 and '56 stock car automobiles are scheduled to roar away from the starting line in the 50-lap midseason championship event Sunday, July 29, at O'Hare Stadium which is located on Mannheim rd. (Rte. 45), just south of Irving Park rd. (Rte. 19) and at the northwest edge of Chicago.

Promoters Bill Cherney and Tex Wooten announce that the 50 lapper will highlight another full card of late model stock car events around their highly banked, quarter-mile asphalt track whch already this season has been the scene of countless thrilling auto race events.

Pre-race favorites include the handful of stars who have previously posted main event victories. They are led by Chicagoan Roy Czach and his '55 Pontiac, the only combination with two feature wins credited at O'Hare. The other winners are Tom Croft, Gene Marmor and Jimmy Maentanis, all of Chicago, and Fred Lorenzen of Elmhurst, Ill.

MAENTANIS IS scheduled to compete in a 1955 Oldsmobile while Lorenzen will have his '56 Chevrolet in action. Other entrants include the following: Rob Chauncey, Chicago, '55 Pontiac; Frank Edwards, Round Lake, Ill., '56 Chevrolet; Bob Esposito, Chicago, '55 Oldsmobile; Stewart Joyce, Indianapolis, Ind., '56 Ford;

Orv Mattson, Chicago, '55 Ford; Kenny Paulsen, Stone Park, Ill., '56 Chevrolet; Vince Rizzo, Chicago, '55 Mercury; Sol Tovella, Chicago, '56 Ford; Bill Vesper, Chicago, '55 Ford; Ed Zawacki, Chicago, '55 Chevrolet, and Roy Mansberger, Chicago, '55 Pontiac.

Time trials for all racing events at O'Hare Stadium begin at 6:30 p.m. with the first race scheduled at 8:30. The late model stock cars headed by those listed above run every Thursday and Sunday evenings. The mighty midgets compete each Friday night. (SP

Recreational Facilities Expanded At Arlington Park

by BOB FRISK

The fifth and final sketch in a series on the various phases of operation at Arlington Park deals with two men who have been instrumental in providing a new look to the stable area at the popular northwest suburban plant.

C. E. Connelly, stable area supervisor in charge of security, and Andy Puplis, recreational director, can look with pride at the vast amount of recreational opportunities now available in the area that weren't present a year ago. And Connelly can look still further into the excellent security system that is now in operation in the area.

"We have tried to provide the employees with ample recreation for their leisure time," Puplis stated, and the operation has been extremely successful. We have a 6 team softball league at Arlington Park which plays on 4 or 5 nights a week, and we have an 8 team division at Washington Park. At the end of the 2 meetings the 2 league champions will meet for the overall championship."

PUPLIS ALSO inserted that they had an Arlington Park Jockey Club golf tournament at Mt. Prospect Country Club, July 15, with both the low gross and low net winners walking off with $50 war bonds. Overall, there were $80 in prizes—golf clubs, balls, shirts, caps—or 20 prizes for the 52 men. Last Sunday the Arlington Park picnic was scheduled in the Paddock area with a softball game between the Grooms and Trainers, races and games, and food, refreshments, and other entertainment also on the program.

There is a tremendous opportunity in the stable area for recreation — something that was lacking for too many years. This is the first year for everything regarding the improved recreational facilities and it was organized through Benjamin F. Lindheimer, executive director of the track, and Kline Weatherford, assistant executive director.

If ever there was a man who could adequately fill the post of recreational director, it's Andy Puplis, All-American quarterback at Notre Dame in 1937, starting quarterback on the College All-Stars in '38, and current head football coach at Proviso Township High School—a post he's held for 16 years, producing some of Illinois' finest schoolboy elevens.

PUPLIS, WHO resides in Maywood, is originally from Chicago and he attended Harrison Tech in Chicago in the early '30's. Four members of the '31 Harrison team went on to Notre Dame where they earned varsity grid letters. Joining Puplis at the South Bend school were Henry Pojman, center; Frank Kopscak, tackle; and Andy Pilney, halfback, who is now coaching at Tulane. In Puplis' three years at Notre Dame the Irish compiled marks of 7—1—1, 6—2—1, and 6—2—1, and Andy was the starting quarterback during his junior and senior campaigns.

This is Puplis' second year in the stable area, first as recreational director, and fifth at the track, having spent three previous seasons with the mutuels.

Connelly, who lives on the grounds, has been associated with law enforcement for 20 years at Miami, Fla., so the capacity as head of the area's security is right up his line. "Chuck" has been associated with tracks through out the country since 1945 and still has charge of the Atlantic City Race Track and Gulfstream Park in Hollywood, Florida.

WHEN WE asked just what was entailed in the security division of the track, we learned some interesting facts—something that once again goes unnoticed to the public (but which is of tremendous advantage to the people living at the track during the 36 day summer session.)

Mr. Connelly initiated his brief outline of the security division by explaining that there are 45 guards which patrol for 24 hours a day and security is supplied by both the fire department and police force. In the fire division there are 12 firemen with 2 pieces of modern equipment and 38 emergency phones at the end of each barn. There is constant patrol of the area as the 6 firemen walk the barns and sheds looking for any hazards which might cause a fire. It is a "constant wheel of protection."

Two gatemen control and handle the traffic in and out of the stable area. Each horse is checked upon its arrival with all the necessary particulars concerning the animal included on the arrival sheet, including the name of the driver, the owner, and the exact time brought in.

EACH MAN in the stable is carefully checked and any criminal record immediately bars a man from any connection with the track. Each man is fingerprinted and interviewed (individually before he gains work in the stable area with the background of each checked. As Mr. Connelly put it, "We have a finger-tip control of every man in the area." If a person is dropped from the payroll for any detrimental reason, it is indicated on a red card which is then placed next to the original white card. This insures protection against a man coming back and re-gaining a job after having been dropped.

The Security office supplies a complete report daily to the management and officials so that they can keep in up-to-date touch with the division and its affairs.

IN CONCLUDING this report a few men should be mentioned in connection with the stable area besides Connelly and Puplis. John Archibald, assistant to Fred Crafton, handles all stable help, the issuing of badges, and he works through the secretary's office. Archibald is the son of George Archibald, one of the top steeple chase riders in the country. Clare Critchfield is an ex-jockey who is in charge of the allotment of stalls at Balmoral, and Arlington and Washington Parks. Henry Weitzel is in charge of maintenance in the stable area.

It has been our pleasure to report these sketches on the operation of beautiful Arlington Park for the last 5 weeks with hopes that they brought into the light the tremendous operation behind the Park and the men behind this operation.

Few people realize what goes on behind the scenes at Arlington Park so we have tried to bring it out with this series. The Arlington Park Jockey Club is aptly termed "A City Within a City"—our largest industry which operates for only 36 days a year! (SP

Cedar-Lined Closet In Summer Cottage

Summer cottages will soon be undergoing improvements designed to increase their convenience and value. Many cottage owners are planning to do some of the work themselves on weekends and vacations.

One improvement which will increase the value and pleasure of a summer hoe is a cedar storage closet to protect blankets and other woolens. Most families keep blankets and warm clothing in their cottage the year around for unexpected winter weekends or cold spells in the summer. Unless protected, these woolens may be ravaged by moths.

Some families prefer to line an existing closet with aromatic red cedar closet lining, while others need to build additional storage space. If more closets or a large storage room are planned, consider the fact that aromatic red cedar closet lining costs little or no more to install than other wall coverings.

NEEDLE in the GROOVE

by PAUL LITTLE

Two albums this week take the spotlight of musical entertainment. Both are Broadway shows—and, alas, for most of us in the Midwest they will be the only opportunity we'll have to "see and hear" these musicals.

But in the case of one of the albums, there's no need whatsoever for regretting this state of affairs. Because Columbia, which has already given us a wonderful 12-inch discing of the highlights from "My Fair Lady" with Rex Harrison and Julie Andrews and Stanley Holloway (a disc we urge you not to miss on any account!), now makes record history by providing for the first time on wax and grooves the entire dialogue and musical score of a musical comedy: in this instance, Frank Loesser's enchanting setting of Sidney Howard's Pulitzer-prize-winning play "They Knew What They Wanted," which is better known to us all now as "The Most Happy Fella."

LOESSER, with the magical score of "Guys and Dolls" to his credit, emerges as undeniably the most gifted and original composer of popular music of our generation and only Cole Porter can match or surpass him. Columbia's enterprise was taken by the brilliant, personable and remarkably versatile Goddard Lieberson producer of all Columbia show albums and also the man who selects most of the classical music we hear on these magnificent hi-fi lps.

The cast is an exceptional one: Robert Weede, who for years has been one of our finest singers but for some inexplicable reason ignored on discs, triumphs as Tony, the lovable Napa Valley grape-grower who sends for a mail-order wife and finally wins her affections. Art Lund, Susan Johnson and Shorty Long, Jo Sullivan and Mona Paulee round out a cast that sings as ably as it acts. Herbert Greene directs orchestra and chorus with verve. The 3-disc album took a dozen hours before the microphone, 7 miles of tape, 30 hours of editing. Its sound as well as its artistry is a tribute to all concerned, and Columbia deserves a loud and ecstatic "Bravo!"

FROM VICTOR, a single 12-inch album which features the Sullman revue, "New Faces of '56." Perhaps not so dynamic and exciting as the 1952 version (which starred Eartha Kitt, Ronnie Graham and Robert Clary and which is available also on Victor lp), this show nonetheless has some dandy numbers: we think "Mustapha" and "Scratch My Back" are alone worth the price of the disc. Great sound!

Irish Roads Turn Away From Crying Trees, Homes Of Elves

by BILL DILLINGHAM

Fairies and elfs cost the Irish government thousands of pounds each year. These invisible spirit people, a known reality of this land, boost the state budget in numerous ways.

Roads in Ireland are constructed in detour fashion to avoid destroying the fairies' houses. Mounds of an earth substance about 20 feet high, called "Duns" in Irish, are encountered all over the country. A laborer couldn't be found in Ireland who would stick a shovel into one of these clay-like hills. Roads, therefore, make costly detours. Moreover, it would be hard to find an Irishman who would disagree with this policy.

"CRYING TREES," another abode of the fairy people, also send roads swerving. No native in his right mind would try to cut one down. Roads and train tracks are of a secondary importance.

" A"crying tree" is one that "bleeds" a black sap when its bark is broken. This is one of the spirit signs, and it is better to spend a thousand pounds for a detour than to arouse the wrath of the fairies.

A story circulates in Ireland telling about 2 men who tried to cut such a tree down, and they both died within 24 hours. Only a few radical students might attempt such a sacrilege, but they would be shillelaghed by townsfolk.

THERE ARE a number of other quaint beliefs current in Ireland, but fortunately they do not increase the government budget. When boy gets a haircut, the clean-shaved kind with the help of a bowl, there is always a knot of hair above the forehead left untouched. This is "for the good Lord to grab onto."

Irishmen are quick to point out that their country is unusual in several ways. The shamrock does not grow wildly in any other land of the world. And the reason that there are no snakes in Ireland is because St. Patrick drove them all away.

Some of these people's beliefs, called superstitions by foreigners with less vision, serve as practical present-da yneed. No 2 brothers are permitted to sail in a fishing boat together. This would be inviting bad luck. Examining the idea further, however, one sees that if a boat sinks the family cannot lose 2 sons at once.

IN COUNTY CAVAN, an almost unbelieveable practice exists which deals with dogs' tails. While in other parts of Ireland and the world, dogs' tails are cut off with a sharp instrument, some villages of County Cavan have a man who has mastered the ancient skill of biting them off. This serves some vague medical purpose.

The younger generation of this country, like youth everywhere, is sometimes troublesome in their disregard for the time-tested ways of their fathers. However, youth and age still agree that shoes and gloves should never be put on beginning with the left hand or foot. This would be openly inviting disaster.

Leave Room For Trinkets On Vacation

Pattern your vacation wardrobe after your vacation plans, says Helen Zwolanek, textiles and clothing instructor at the University of Illinois.

By carefully planning which vacation clothes to take, you'll have space left for souvenirs and other items you may want to bring home.

WEEKEND TRIPS to a waterfront resort call for only a small wardrobe. Swimming togs, shorts, jeans and shirts are all necessary. One change of sport clothes for adults and 2 for children should be enough. With the addition of underwear and pajamas, your weekend wardrobe should be complete.

This basic plan can be varied to suit your individual needs. If you plan to attend church, remember to include appropriate clothing. Consider other special occasions in your wardrobe planning too.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The value and importance of right motives in daily living, will be emphasized at Christian Science services this Sunday, July 29.

Readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy in the Lesson-Sermon entitled "Love" will include the following (454:17-21): "Love for God and man is the true incentive in both healing and teaching. Love inspires, illumines, designates, and leads the way. Right motives give pinions to thought, and strength and freedom to speech and action."

The freedom-giving power of divine Love will also be brought out in the Scriptural readings which include the following (I John 4:18): "There is no fear in love; but perfect love casteth out fear: because fear hath torment. He that feareth is not made perfect in love."

Beat The Heat

Probably the coolest member of the University of Illinois staff this summer is Prof. William M. Merrill, geologist. He's studying an ice cliff at the edge of a Greenland glacier, where the temperature never goes above 47 and snow falls in every month.

This is his second summer in a project under the U. S. army engineer's snow, ice, and permafrost laboratory. Snowfall, melting, and motion of the glacial ice is being studied. (G

To Help Honor Shaw

Mr. and Mrs. James Colvin of 1319 Watling Street, Arlington Heights, have joined the ranks of sponsors for Chicago's Bernard Shaw day Thursday, July 26.

The Colvins have contributed $100 or more to underwrite the centenary celebration, which is being sponsored by the adult education council of Greater Chicago.

Each Shaw Day sponsor will receive two tickets for each of the following centendry events. a morning symposium on "The Many Sides of Bernard Shaw"; a luncheon, and reading of Shaw's "Back to Methuselah" by the First Chicago drama quartet; dedication of the new, and permanent, Bernard Shaw room in the Sherman hotel; a reception and dinner for sponsors and special Shaw Day guests; and an evening theatre tribute to G. B. S. in the 8th Street theatre. (BILL

IN THE SHADOW OF THE STEEPLE

Preacher Hails Rocky Mountains

by REV. WILLIAM McGILL

The Rocky Mountain national park and Shadow Mountain national recreation area abounds in campsites for the family which likes to vacation with tent and cookstove.

Although we did not try it, there seems also to be adequate opportunity for those who carry rod and reel.

One site which we like very much is Asempler, the first campsite west of Estes park in the Rocky Mountain national park. The Fall river runs along one side and Deer Mountain rises almost 4,000 feet straight up on the others to a total height of about 10,000 feet.

ONE OF THE JOYS of camping is the people you meet at camp sites. In hotels there are bell boys and chambermen who are available to help at a fee. This is right; after all, it's their livelihood. In motels you seldom see anybody but the managers and then not after you have agreed to take the room.

But at camp grounds, there is an attitude of friendliness and graciousness. People wander over from the next tent and offer to help. If it's dark and rainy — as it always seems to be when we are in the Estes park area — one can be embarassed by the help available. The friendly people usually talk to Mrs. McGill while the "Shadow" scurries around getting the tents into shape for sleeping.

Our friendly helpers this summer turned out to be "angels" in name as well as fact. In the half light swathed in a poncho we had guessed them to be a teacher and wife, probably near retirement age. In the light of day, their age came down much closer to our own, and 3 daughters and a dog emerged from the tent. Turned out he was a Congregationalist minister on a camping vacation following the Congregational churches' general conference at Omaha. His name, of all things, was Angel.

ALL ALONG the way there seem to be more and more people camping en route, or camping for their full vacation. The campsites are hardly sufficient at some places to care for them.

Congress has not caught up with the fact that more people camping means larger appropriations for rangers and maintenance. Since the park service returns $1 per car to the federal treasury, they could approach the strange situation of being a profit making service operating on a deficit-financing appropriation basis.

Avoid Skimpy Curtains, Try Unique Trim

Inexpensive curtains and clever decorating devices can add an effective touch to your windows.

Don't make curtains skimpy. It is better to use less expensive material and to make the curtains full than to use more expensive material and make them skimpy, says Ellen Hansen, textiles and clothing instructor.

Inexpensive materials, such as dimity, cottons, scrim and unbleached muslin, make attractive curtains. White or colored muslin sheets can be made into curtains very easily.

Many different types of decoration add a special touch to inexpensive materials. Borders of a different material or braided fabric set off muslin and cotton materials. And rick rack, bias tape, ball fringe and other trims add an extra decorative touch.

IF YOU want to use a more expensive material, you can still save money by using less curtain. Do it by using a ruffle around the window, just across the top or at the top and at the middle. Instead of a ruffle, you can use pleated material. Use a bright color when you use a small amount of material.

Glass shelves across the window with plants or colored bottles take the place of curtains. Or you might use a frame of wallpaper, plywood or colored tape. Plates at top of the window sill also may replace a curtain. Or you might weave colored rug yarn over the window opening. (DL

New Reactor To Mean More Tests For Industry

Start-up of the world's first nuclear reactor for private research opens a broad, new approach to development of better petroleum products, M. P. Venema, president of Universal Oil Products Company, predicted today.

The reactor, operated by Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institutute of Technology, Chicago, began operations June 28. Universal Oil Products and 23 other companies each contributed $20,000 toward construction operation of the reactor, which will be used exclusively for research.

"HAVING A SOURCE of radioactive isotopes close to our laboratories will permit investigations that have been nearly impossible before, "Venema said. "For example, radioactive vanadium has a half-life of only a few minutes, but we will be able to obtain a sufficiently strong sample to conduct experiments on the mechanics of catalyst poisoning. Until now, transportation time from Atomic Energy Commission reactors has placed its use out of our reach."

Universal Oil Products also will be able to conduct other investigations into the mechanics of chemical reactions by means of "tagging" specific elements, he added.

The reactor is of the so-called "water boiler" type and is fueled by about 2½ lb. of Uranium 235 dissolved in about 5 gallons of water.

Realtors Join Fight Against Revenue Bill

Business interests in Illinois are joining forces to oppose the proposed revenue amendment to the Illinois constitution which appears on the blue ballot at the November 6 general election.

The Illinois Association of real estate boards, representing 2,800 realtors from all over the state, this week joined the state chamber of commerce, junior chamber of commerce, and Illinois Manufacturers association in going on record against the amendment.

UNDER THE current revenue article, real estate has to be taxed by valuation. Under the proposed revenue amendment, the state legislature would have the right to tax real estate under any system it might desire and by any amount, according to realty chief Lewis V. Hogan. (BB

High Octane Process

Universal Oil Products company has been selected as a licensing agent for Shell oil company's 2-stage fluid catalytic cracking process, M. P. Venema, UOP president, has announced.

By employing the 2-stage process, Mr. Venema said, a refiner can utilize wide boiling range stocks to catalytically crack them to high octane gasoline while using optimum severities. This prevents over-cracking of the least refractory components to gas and coke, and under-cracking of the

Arlington Furniture Mart Expands For Fourth Time

Arlington Furniture Mart, 211 S. State rd., Arlington Heights, will soon begin construction on a new show-room building at 1900 E. Northwest hwy.

In commenting on merchandise and policy of the new store, E. H. Lindgren said:

"ENLARGING THE Arlington Furniture mart is really nothing new to us. This will be the fourth major expansion since the inception of the business a few years ago.

"Since each expansion has been the direct result of our successful customer relation policies, it is not likely that we would entertain any idea of changing our policy.

"Our merchandising policy will, of course, be radically affected by the great increase in available display area.

"We will now be able to attractively display complete groupings in every style from traditional and provincial to contemporary and modern.

"WE PLAN to augment our drapery and carpet departments. Our recent incorporation under the name of Lindgren Furniture mart will enable us to increase available buying power and result in generally lower prices. The store will continue to be known, however, as Arlington Furniture mart."

C. M. Teutsch is architect and designer of the new 2-story building to include 23,000 sq. ft. of display area, complete air conditioning, and parking for 300 cars. (BB

National Tea Food Sales Up 5 Per Cent From 1955

Food sales of National Tea co. shot up 9 per cent over last year's record figures during the first 5 and a half months of 1956, reports H. V. McNamara, president of the chain.

In an interim report to shareholders, McNamara said that while sales are at a record high, net profits had dipped slightly since last year.

HOWEVER, EARNINGS were still the second highest in the company's 57-year history for any first 6 months period.

Sales for National Tea and its subsidiaries up to June 16 totaled $279,635,018, an increase of $22 million or more than 8 per cent over the same period last year. The sales increase averaged nearly $1 million a week.

Net income after taxes amounted to $2,885,722, equal to $1.36 a common share, compared with $1.54 a share during the same period last year.

McNAMARA ATTRIBUTED the lower net to higher taxes, expenses involved in expansion and increased costs of doing business in the face of intensified competition.

During the first 24 weeks of the year the firm opened a total of 37 new and relocated stores and these stores are expected to contribute considerably to the net income in the last 7 periods of the year, according to the report.

Pediatrician Opens New Westgate Office

Edward K. Isaacson M.D. of Skokie this week announced the opening of a branch practice in Westgate Medical center, 13 S. Wilkie rd., Arlington Heights.

Dr. Isaacson's main practice, limited to infants, children, and teen ages, is located at 8058 Lincoln ave., Skokie.

In his new office, scheduled to open at the end of the summer, he hopes to employ an assistant physician. Office hours will include Tuesday and Friday mornings, Wednesday, Thursday, and Saturday afternoons. Telephone will be CLearbrook 5-3911.

DR. ISAACSON is on the staff of St. Francis hospital and teaches as an associate in pediatrics at Northwestern university. He received his M.D. degree from the University of Illinois in 1943 and after a year of internship at Micheel Resse hospital was drafted into the army medical corps for 2 years. Furthering his study he underwent specialized training at Illinois Research and then received a fellowship in pediatric neurology to train 2 more years at Cook County hospital.

In 1949 Dr. Isaacson began his practice on Howard and Clark sts., in Chicago. His practice was transferred to Skokie in 1951. (BB

Senator Commends

James H. Peery, 504 S. Beverley lane, Arlington Heights, was praised by Senator Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin in a recent speech for the part he is playing in the plumbing industry's nationwide campaign to upgrade housing and check the spread of blight.

Peery was included among the various officers and committee chairmen singled out by the senator for special commendation in connection with their activities on behalf of the all-industry plumbing and heating modernization committee. He is secretary of the committee.

Perry also is secretary of the central supply association, consisting of plumbing and heating equipment wholesalers from 23 mid-western states. (BB

Don Kreider Is New Bank Veep

Don L. Kreider, an Elk Grove civic leader and secretary of the District 59 Men's association, recently was named a vice-president of the Sears-Community State bank of Chicago.

Kreider joined the $100 million banking firm affiliate with Sears-Roebuck a year and a half ago. The bank, serving a large west side area as well as the parent firm, is reputed to be the only one of its kind in the nation.

THE 7 MEMBERS of the Kreider family live on Algonquin rd. near Mt. Prospect rd. in Elk Grove township. The 5 children range from a junior in Arlington high school down to a 2-year-old.

Kreider, who has worked for incorporation of a city in the eastern segment of the township, said he is "enthusiastic" about the prospects for the area. (BB

Suburb Home Building Drops By $34 Million

The extent of the drop-off in home construction in the Chicago area in 1956 is shown in figures recently released by Bell Savings and Loan of Chicago.

For the first 6 months of 1956 the value of home begun in the 6 suburbs leading the field totaled about $43 million.

In 1955 the top 6 suburbs began $77 million worth of homes in the same period.

THE ACTUAL drop in number of homes built in the city and suburbs, compared with the corresponding figure last year, was 2,485. There were 21,378 home starts through June, 1956 and 23,863 in the first 6 months of last year.

The northwest suburbs, though, regained their 1954 position as the leading suburban area for home building.

In 1954, of the 6 top suburbs, 5 were in the northwest area, including Skokie, Park Ridge, Mt. Prospect, Arlington Heights and Morton Grove. Gary, Ind. in third place was the only outsider.

FOR THE first half of 1955, fourth, fifth and sixth places were occupied by Gary, Elmhurst and Westchester behind Skokie, Park Ridge and Morton Grove.

This year the rank, according to valuation of home starts, is as follows: Skokie, $12,681,000; Park Ridge, $7,875,247; Morton Grove, $ 5, 881, 800; Westchester, $5, 880, 300; Arlington Heights, $5,604050, and Mt. Prospect $5,348,003. (BB

Rosemary Cairo

Mrs. Mary Cairo of Island Lake announces the engagement of her daughter, Rosemary, to Harry W. Burtzlaff, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry J. Burtzlaff of Palatine.

No definite date has been set for the wedding.

The engagement of Miss Marie Lipham to Stanley Graham Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam G. Smith of Waterloo, Iowa, is announced by her brother-in-law and sister, Dr. and Mrs. Samuel N. Stevens Jr., 603 Na-wa-ta, Mt. Prospect.

Miss Lipham and Mr. Smith are both seniors at Grinnell college, Grinnell, Iowa, where Miss Lipham is an honor student and has recently been elected president of Mortar Board honor society. She has been employed during the past 2 summers at the Mt. Prospect state bank.

Marie Lipham

Mr. Smith, a business administration major, and a member of the air force advanced ROTC, left Waterloo last Thursday for summer training at Bryan air base in Texas. He has a position for the summer in the research and development department for Rath Packing company.

Miss Lipham's mother, Mrs. Lillie Lipham, resides in Hawaii with her sons. She is presently visiting her daughters in Mt. Prospect.

Casseroles, Buffets Go Hand In Hand

Entertaining the buffet way affords a chance to dramatize your favorite casserole dish in a guise that's easy to prepare and tasty to eat.

Although the buffet-style meal isn't new, it's the easiest way to serve if you're short of help and allows time to visit with your guests.

Mildred Bonnell, University of Illinois instructor, says buffets can be attractive and also enjoyable for instructor, says buffets can be attractive and also enjoyable for guests because of their informality and the choice of variety and quantity of foods.

A MAIN DISH served from the casserole in which it was baked retains its heat and is therefore ideal for buffet service. These casserole entrees usually include noodles, spaghetti or rice combined with meat or some other protein.

Garnishes add an interesting note to standby casserole dishes. Fried apple rings with the red skins left on are a fine complement to a sweet potato and ham casserole. Slivers of ripe olives or sliced stuffed green olives or toasted almond halves sprinkled on a spaghetti dish introduce a slightly different flavor and texture.

An unusual-shaped pie crust or biscuit topping turns a meat or chicken pie into a party food.

Prosperity

Two-thirds of the families in Mexico have incomes of less than $24 a month.

THE MAILMAN'S CORNER

BY LELAND ELLIS TRUXELL

"I'll get even with you," is a phrase that occurs again and again in the conflict and competition of childhood; but when children are grown to manhood and womanhood, "getting even" should be discarded from their personality.

With some people, so much of their time and energy goes into the problems of getting even that they have little time left to do the important work of life. Socially, it never gets anyone anywhere; and there are few great men who ever indulge in it.

"GETTING EVEN" has broken up many a happy home. In a moment of weakness, a man or woman breaks the bonds of matrimony. Their partner "gets even." Under such circumstances, there is little hope to keep the happiness of a home intact, and double infidility leads to separation and divorce. To forgive a partner's weakness, whatever it may be, and to try to patch up differences rather than to increase them, is a sure way to happiness and peace of mind. As long as there is love and forgiveness on the part of one partner, there is hope of eventual reconciliation and happiness.

"Getting even" reduces a person to the same level as the one he "Gets even" with. To even up theft by theft, murder by murder, hatred by hatred never makes a person happy. It ruins their character, their personality, their lives.

ACTUALLY, no one ever gets even, since each person justifies his own acts. There has to be an impersonal understanding in a person's mind which can control those sudden impulses. We should adhere to what we know is right, rather than what we feel is right, since feeling springs from passion, and self control from character.

It is better to ignore insults than to revenge them, and to forgive than to hold hatred in the heart. I have seen some people who can endure insult, hatred, and abuse with a courage and even temper which is almost superhuman. And I have always noticed that these people are happier, more self assured and contented with their lot then the vengeful, hateful person; for as a rule, the person who has a revengeful nature, who always must "get even," seldom has many friends. And I strongly suspect, that he even dislikes himself.

The Tuna Casserole we are featuring today has an interesting texture as well as delicious flavor.

It was served with great success as a farewell luncheon the board members gave for the retiring president of the Palatine Womans club.

The recipe belongs to Mrs. J. G. Young who is program chairman of the womans club.

Activities of this talented woman testify to her cooking ability. A former home economics teacher, Mrs. Young was also cafeteria director of Palatine schools for several years.

She now works as a consultant on kitchen layouts and equipment for the Kimball Hill schools, and in addition is secretary of the new Youth Center in Palatine.

Her Tuna Casserole recipe is easy to make and can be put together in a hurry.

In addition to the tuna, it contains cream of mushroom soup, water chestnuts, Chinese noodles, celery and green onions, and is topped with cashew nuts.

Mrs. Young usually accompanies it with a tossed salad, hot rolls and a dessert. It is excellent to serve for a luncheon or buffet supper.

And the recipe is versatile, too, for chicken, crabmeat, shrimp or lobster may be substituted for the tuna. The casserole may also be frozen successfully.

The Youngs live at 102 S. Linden in Palatine. They have 1 son, Jim, a junior in high school.

Tuna Casserole

1 can cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup cold water
1 can tuna, flaked
1 8-ounce can water chestnuts, sliced
1 5-ounce can Chinese noodles
1 cup chopped celery
2 green onions and tops, chopped
¼ cup whole cashews

Blend soup and water. Mix with remaining ingredients, except the nuts.

Turn into casserole and top with nuts.

Let Guests Choose, Prepare Cool Beverages

Prepare in advance lemon, spice, mint, mocha and pineapple flavored sirups. Cover and store in the refrigerator. Keep canned pineapple, loganberry juice, gingerale or milk or hand to mix with the sirup.

For an added garnish to the beverage, freeze undiluted fruit juices left over from pineapple, berries or cherries. Mrs. Janssen suggests the following recipes for bases:

Spice Sirup
Yield: 2 cups

2 cups sugar
1 cup water
2 tablespoons corn sirup
2 tablespoons whole cloves
3 pieces of 3 inch stick cinnamon
1 piece whole or 2 teaspoons cracked ginger

Combine sugar, water, corn sirup and spices in saucepan. Stir over heat until the sugar is dissolved, simmer for 15 minutes. Strain, pour into bottle or jar cover and store in refrigerator.

Mint Sirup
Yield: 2 cups

2 cups sugar
1 cup water
2 tablespoons corn sirup
20 stalks fresh mint curls

Combine all ingredients. Stir over heat until sugar dissolves and simmer 15 minutes. Strain. Pour into bottle and cover. Store in refrigerator.

Marriage Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie K. Laird of Biltmore, Barrington, announce the marriage of their daughter, Judith, to Gary Leighton Griffin of Green Bay, Wis. The marriage of the couple took place July 7 in St. Paul Methodist church, Green Bay.

MRS. GARY L. GRIFFIN

The bride was graduated from Arlington Heights high school and attended Grinnell college. The Laird family are former residents of Mt. Prospect.

Carol Siewenie Becomes Mrs. Kenley Bredfeldt

St. Paul Lutheran church, Mt. Prospect, was the scene June 30 of the wedding of Carol Jeanne Siewenie, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Siewenie of Mt. Prospect, and Kenley Thomas Bredfeldt, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Bredfeldt of Des IPaines. The Rev. J. E. A. Mueller officiated at the 4 p.m. ceremony before the altar, decorated with white peonies and gladioli.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Fred Siewenie, wore a white waltz-length gown with cap sleeves, full skirt and scoop neckline. Her fingertip length veil was held in place by a cap trimmed in tiny pearls and sequins. She carried a cascade bouquet of white gladioli, lily of the valley and stephanotis.

Mrs. Erna Mulch, aunt of the bride was matron of honor and wore a cocktail length pink dress of crystalette with a sheer coat of the same color and fabric. She carried a garden bouquet of snapdragons, daisies, peonies and bachelor buttons.

Miss Carol Slazas and Miss Jane Hollenbeck, bridesmaids, were dressed the same as the maid of honor. Linda Lou Lulch, cousin of the bride, and Christine Ann Siewenie, sister of the bride, both 5 years old, were flower girls and wore white nylon over pink slips with pink sashes. They carried garden baskets.

Brother of the groom, John Bredfeldt, was best man, and Russ Igoe, Peter Siewenie, brother of the bride, ushered.

Mrs. Siewenie wore a pink silk cocktail-length dress and white carnations with garnet roses. The groom's mother wore a powder blue lace dress and corsage of white carnations and garnet roses.

A dinner for 75 and garden reception for 150 guests was held at the home of the bride's mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Bredfeldt are living in Wheeling, and the groom is employed in construction work in Mt. Prospect. (Bak Studio

PALM SPRINGS OR ARLINGTON HEIGHTS? The 13 blossoms on this lily growing in the yard of Mrs. Warren Black, 827 S. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, are a tribute to something. Hobo Summer In Europe

It's Small World For Coed Touring 'Cheerful' Holland

by NANCY EMIG

It is a small world.

While on the S. S. Waterman, who did I see but Dave Brandt, a 1953 graduate from Arlington Heights!

He was going to Austria with an experiment group and will live with a family while studying there.

One night we had a party in our cabin, and Dave stopped in and drank up all the beer. However, our bus driver says "Water is for fishes."

Beer is the drink here, so guess he was getting in training. We hope to see each other on the S.S. Zuiderkruis coming back to the States and will compare notes. Dave is a student at Yale.

WE WERE all anxious to see the Netherlands.

We sailed up the main canal and dozens of children came running outside, waving and calling to us. We disembarked at Rotterdam, about 3 p.m. The President of Leiden university gave us a speech of welcome, and a Dutch band played. I noticed quite a few damp handkerchiefs when they played the Star Spangled Banner, and I felt a little misty myself!

When we got off the ship, we were met by little Dutch girls who pinned bright orange flowers on us and served hot coffee.

After customs, which consisted of merely checking passports, we boarded the bus. It is a brand new Caon with especially built large glass windows all around, a radio which picks up American music (a rare treat), movable seats for reclining, hangers, in fact, all the comforts of home.

This bus will be our home all summer, so we've naed it "Verboten" (forbidden). Remember our pet Dutch words aboard ship?

ROTTERDAM is the second largest seaport in the world (New York is the first).

Much of Rotterdam is very modern, having been rebuilt after the heavy damages caused by the war.

The chief difference between Rotterdam and Chicago is that everyone rides a bicycle; nuns, old men, children of 3 and 4 years, women in tight skirts and spike heels, and couples courting.

I even saw a man walking his dog while riding a bike.

Traffic is terrific, and I think I'd feel much safer crossing State and Madison sts. at high noon than crossing a street here.

Cars, motorbikes, horse drawn carts and countless bikes are continually whizzing by. They even have slots built into the sidewalks where the front wheels of these vehicles fit in order to hold them upright.

There seems to be a wonderfully cheerful, happy wholesomeness about the Netherlands.

The cities are so very clean, and the people certainly give the impression that they are friendly and carefree. One doesn't lose the influence or flavor of America though. This is evidenced by the many Coca-Cola signs, Shell and Esso filling stations as well as any number of miniature golf establishments.

We passed through Delft, famous for its china, greenhouses and canals. Here we saw old men and young children fishing all along the many canals. All the boys wear short pants and it seems strange to see little children of 2 and 3 playing outside alone near the water.

ONE HALF of Holland is below sea level, so naturally it is very flat and fertile. The farms are quite picturesque with their thatched roofs; and pigs, cows, horses and chickens all graze in the same enclosure. As you drive along you can see the farmers on little stools out in the fields milking their cows.

The houses are built on piles 25 feet high to keep them above the water, and from sinking. They are box shaped with flat fronts but you always see fresh white curtains at and brightly colored flowers in the windows.

Some of the cottages are almost completely rose covered and there are many weeping willow trees that add to the beauty and charm of the countryside. Wooden shoes are still worn but chiefly by the road workers, farmers and push cart peddlers.

Our student guides from the University of Leiden explained that 3 high dunes protect the land. The people call them by name, The Waker, The Dreamer and The Sleeper.

PICTURED ABOVE are the newly-installed officers of the Des Plaines chapter, Women of the Moose. Installation ceremonies were held at the new North school June 30. Following the installation Junior Graduate Regent Magdalene Remsing of Forest River presented gifts to past officers and committee chairmen. She in turn received luggage from her ritual group, a scrapbook of the events of the year, jewelry and a check from Des Plaines Lodge 604. —Wittbold studio

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

50 Years Ago

July 27, 1906

Everybody admits that Palatine needs cement walks. But the manner of laying those walks is arousing a surprising amount of talk, criticism and hard feelings. Everybody seems to blame everybody else. Unity is necessary or Palatine suffers. If there is any objections to the work of those in charge, it is the property owner who pays for same; has the right and privilege to make such objection to the village authorities, not to outsiders nor have outsiders any right to "butt in."

Miss Martha Neetz and William Dinn were married at the home of the bride's parents July 26. The eatables were the best procurable.

The weather climax came Sunday, July 22, when thermometers registered 90 degrees in the shade. Some report 120 in the sun.

August is usually the hottest month of the year, but she will hardly equal July this season. Two weeks of extreme heat and drouth nearly exhausted man, beast and vegetation. A respite came in a cool breeze Monday.

Zurich people were all fagged out Monday after the extreme revelries at the picnic Sunday. His neighbors thought William C. Bicknase was making an unwise investment when he built that big pavilion on the lake shore; but they realize now that he knows best of all how to make money. If he keeps on as he has begun, he will soon be the Rockefeller of this locality.

Barrington Olympic Club have finished their new club house which is one of the finest in this part of the country. The main feature of recreation now is lawn tennis.

Meacham — Ed. 2 girls is too much for you. You ought to left your neighbor have one on the 4th.

Miss Martha Flentie, daughter of Henry Flentie, died at the home of her father July 24 aged 19 years, 9 days. She had been a faithful industrious and trusted employee — typesetter and reporter, on the Cook County Herald staff over three years, where the entire force had learned to love her. This office is lonely without her. We all expect to meet her in Heaven, where parting will be no more.

I have opened shop in Winkelman's building, Arlington Heights, where I am prepared to satisfy all who want horseshoeing and general blacksmithing — A. G. Horcher.

July 30, 1916.

The first week in August is generally the hottest of all the year and farmers are then the busiest. As has been our custom several years past, we give our readers, printers and reporters a chance to rest and seek the shady dells where they can enjoy a week's vacation.

I wish to announce to the Republican voters of the 7th Senatorial District that I am a candidate for Representative to the Legislature of the State of Illinois, from this district.

Surveyors from the Chicago, Fox Lake and Northwestern Electric Ry. Co. were in town Monday and completed their survey of the line from Evanston to the P.L.Z & W. right of way at the Hackbarth garage. There is only a question of time until a road will be built, but whether this new company has sufficient backing, remains to be seen.

From San Antonio writes Trumpeter Stephen H. Herold: "Very warm down here. All the boys are alright. We are getting fair meals here. Bud Hilton is going back home on account of his eyes, anyway, he is no good here; they could not make a soldier out of him. This is a very interesting life. I am sorry that I could not write sooner. All are broke and can not get any stamps here."

The editor was at Mt. Prospect a little while Tuesday and was astonished at the rapid and substantial growth of that enterprising burg which, if she keeps up her constant pace, will soon jump past her sister villages and become a full-fledged city with all the latest ideas. They already threaten to make it a dry town, but you can always buy a cool refreshing drink of milk at the creamery.

Farmers generally are not so grouchy that they object to a stranger taking a few onions occasionally to go with his lunch. But a young man in yellow pants from a town west of here has the habit of going through a man's onions daily picking out the larger ones and taking them home. He may not think it wrong but — it's a bad habit at least. Beware!

Attorney H. J. Thal has been successful in his plea for the pardon of Peter Van Vlissinger, the million dollar forger who has served 8 years in Joliet Penitentiary during which he was a model prisoner. He was once a rich man but lost his fortune and will start a new life. He owes much to Attorney Thal who has fought in the courts over a year to secure his pardon July 25.

Mt. Prospect — William Busse & Sons' new front on their hardware store has been completed and it is a model for many a merchant to follow, this is the finest store front we have noticed in the northern part of the country.

Arlington Heights — Carl Behrers is building a brick bungalow on East Euclid st. Herman Kehe will build a brick house on Pine street. Albert Kehe expects to build a new house on St. James street.

Our reporter knows that these are only a few of the new houses being erected in Arlington Heights. There are so many of them that when we hear of a new one, before we forget it, we "jot it down".

Speaking of buildings, the new Weiterman garage is going up rapidly. It extends the business section of Arlington Heights one more block further south. The final papers in the transfer of the Cruick-shank property to Mr. Schaeffer were delivered this week. Mr. Schaeffer takes over the entire place, including the peacock, guinea hens and other birds and live stock. It is a very desirable country estate but part of it will be immediately cut up into lots.

George Parker & Son have sold their new house on Evergreen and Fairview to Mr. Framel. Fred Hinz has bought the new house erected by George Meyer on North Evergreen.

Grandma Schoppe surrounded by children and grandchildren celebrated her 90th birthday last Sunday at her home in Palatine. She has been a resident of Cook county nearly 75 years. She came to America alone when a young lady of eighteen summers. None of her immediate relatives ever followed her to America. The birthday anniversary was observed in a quiet way, but there were over thirty relatives who gathered at the homestead, corner of Chicago avenue and Brockway.

With the issuing of the catalog and premium list of the 1926 Cook County Fair, the plans for the 1926 Fair are well along.

Interest in the fair throughout the surrounding country is greater than ever before and prospects at present point to the greatest fair in the history of Cook county. With the suspension of the Lake and McHenry county fairs the eyes of the fair-going public are all centered upon Palatine and the Cook county fair.

A referendum on the proposed field house and swimming pool for Arlington Heights park district will be held Saturday when the voters will have the opportunity of voting "for" or "against" the issuance of $20,000 in bonds for the purpose of paying the village's share of a $100,000 WPA project auditing approval.

If the approval is given by the voters, an approval of the project itself by the government, will be necessary before the bonds can be issued.

The much heralded Firemen's day in Arlington Heights occurs Sunday in the new recreation park which is being thrown open to the public that day for the first time. The park is not yet complete, but the athletic field has been leveled off and provisions made to entertain a record breaking crowd.

Dr. William P. Schirding, of Palatine, died suddenly of heart ailment July 16. For over a quarter of a century he conducted a general practice in his home town. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schirding, pioneer settlers of Palatine. He spent all of his 64 years in Palatine and saw the town advance from a mere hamlet to its present position.

Miss Loraine Hinz and Herbert Schoeder, both of Palatine, were united in holy wedlock July 18. Two well-known people of Bensenville, George Grobe and Mrs. Grace Franzen, were joined in holy wedlock Wednesday. Last Saturday Vernon Franzen and Miss Violet Schuett of Barrington were quietly married.

In their meeting last Sunday the voters of St. Peter's Lutheran church accepted the recommendation of the school board and voted approval of the establishment of a kindergarten to be opened in September.

The failure of the Arlington Heights board to call up for passage an ordinance prepared by Attorney Thal several months ago to restrict tavern licenses to eleven, has forced Mayor Goedke to issue the extra license and the number of taverns in Arlington is again an even dozen.

Palatine village board placed on file Monday night letters from several civic leaders requesting that the number of tavern licenses be reduced from five to three. (One tavern has gone out of business, the license of the second one has been rovoked following a shooting.)

The voters of School District No. 25 approved an additional bond issue of $100,000 for the construction of the South School addition.

When the automobile production dam breaks and cars come tumbling off the assembly lines to flood the streets and highway, Prospect Heights' ever enlarging and popular shopping district will be set to survive the choking process of street parking. Carlton A. Smith disclosed that arrangements were already under to provide additional parking space for 400 cars.

Henry E. Gardner, known throughout Prospect Heights by his hundreds of friends as Harry, was suddenly stricken with poliomyelitis last week. He was taken to the hospital early Saturday and passed away that evening.

Jack Deynzer will see his dream of several years come true Saturday when the Radio Club farm at Northwest highway and Quintens road, Palatine opens for business.

The special election called by the Palatine village board to vote on the question of increasing the tax rate of the village sufficiently to meet obligations of ordinary running expenses, will be held this Saturday.

Biggest Motors

The two most powerful motors ever made will furnish hurricane gales up to 3800 miles per hour in the gigantic wind tunnel now being built at Tullahoma, Tenn. for the Air Force. Designed and constructed by Westinghouse, the mammoth motors each create 83,000 horsepower. Together, they generate enough power to propel a large ocean liner. (G

Letters to the Fence Post should be short and concise. All letters must be signed, though name will be withheld if desired. Address Fence Post, Paddock Publications, Inc., Arlington Heights, Ill.

Enormous Task

As a subscriber to the Mt. Prospect Herald I have observed that your papers are very generous in giving publicity to worthy causes, so I should like to enlist your help in a cause in which I am very much interested.

The Braille Transcribers Club of Illinois, members of the Federated Clubs of Illinois, has undertaken the big job of putting many of the textbooks, to be used in the Wheeling Schhol for handicapped children as well as those used in Evanston and Chicago schools, into Braille. This is an enormous task since we are a small group working without pay to any member, also the fact that the work was not given to us until the close of school in June.

OUR NEED for publicity is to get new transcribers who must be trained to do hard work and give a great deal of time after they learn.

We were given this work through the recommendation of the Library of Congress.

I am not the publicity chairman so I can't give out information, but if you are interested I will be glad to have her send you an article on our work.

Untrue

In an editorial of July 19 there was quoted a letter that had been received in which an erroneous reference was made to the League of Women Voters. We would like to explain to readers that no organization whatsoever sponsors our group. The League of Women Voters was incorporated in 1923 and is supported financially by membership contributions and dues, and contributions from interested individuals.

The Fund for the Republic made a grant to the Carrie Chapman Catt Memorial Fund which was used to finance a Freedom Agenda program and publish literature for that program. It did not seek to promote any particular point of view, but was initiated in the belief that a greater understanding of the principles of individual liberty will ultimately increase the respect and reverence of all Americans for those principles and for constitutional democracy. The League of Women Voters is only one of the many national organizations which helped in the formation of local discussion groups and other popular educational programs in individual liberty in cooperation with the Freedom Agenda project. The Fund for the Republic has made grants to many different educational organizations and projects which believe in the preservation and strengthening of the basic American freedoms.

The League of Women Voters is proud of the services which it performs for the community, and believes that we are a more effective organization in the fact that we are a non-partisan organization. The League takes a position on issues but never on candidates, thus a League position is arrived at independently and bears no relation to the positions of candidates, factions or parties. The Arlington Heights League of Women Voters is young in terms of League activity, and participation in civic affairs, but readers of Paddock Publications may rest assured that we are constantly striving to serve the community, the state and the nation in the same fine, unselfish and objective manner as have more experienced leagues.

An Answer

I certainly "feel" for the "Disappointed Suburbanite" who, in last week's Fence Post, told of the welcome she did not receive when she moved to a local community. I wish that she had named the community which had given her such a poor reception.

I can understand that after residing in one place 35 years, it is difficult to become acclimated to her new surroundings. No doubt others have had the same experience. I know I am speakiing for this community when I express my regret that more friendliness had not been shown by her new neighbors.

There have been so many newcomers arriving each week that it is difficult to welcoome them all. However, we can envision the kind of helping hand of welcome we could get from the new neighbors if we moved from here into the big city, can't you? I have tried that once and am glad to be back.

The northwest communities are no longer typical country towns than are Oak Park or Evanston and we no longer expect them to be. We feel certain her comment will be far different after 2 year's residence here. We surely hope so.

We suggest that she make an initial call on her new neighbors.

Downgrade?

Somewhere among the Palatine village police is a mind.

Man has always made traps for the unwary and unsuspecting. In this case, the Mind has acquired a radar controlled electronic device to trap the unsuspecting motorist.

Now here's the rub. Coming along Plum Grove rd. on a fairly level stretch is Joe Motorist holding to his legal 30 m.p.h. limit. He comes to the only dip or downgrade in the road. That's right, you've guessed it.

THE MIND has planted his device at this point. But poor Joe, his foot still exerting only enough acceleration for the 30 m.p.h., has involuntarily picked up 1 to 3 m.p.h. because of the downgrade, and a few moments later, trouble.

I do not approve of speeding, and if the Mind would apply his ingenuity and study of human weaknesses to stop the real violators, I will resist my attempts at satire.

Joe of Des Plaines

Why Not?

We have read with interest the comments of "An interested taxpayer" in the Fence Post of last week's issue. We enjoy reading your paper, and its impartiality.

Could you advise us of the approximate cost of the Palatine "Planning Commission" for drawing up a plan, whereby we citizens could have the mudpuddle removed in front of our post office, the west sidewalk of N. Bothwell street made walkable as it crosses the C&NW right-of-way, some semblance of regulation enforced so that cars do not block what pedestrian walk that still exists on the east side of Bothwell street, approaching the depot, (where there is plenty of room east of the walk); the running of autos both ways on the 2 railroad avenues, signals provided for pedestrians crossing the C&NW tracks at Bothwell street, (as well as the unobserved bicycle signs), and just anything practical, other than rerouting the bus lines that serve our village, and blocking up streets. May we have these plans brought out into the open? "Tunnels?"

Will you publish the approximate cost of the above, and also the cost, to date, of a "Plan" as brought out by councilman Wachs, that no part of, as yet, can be put into action, and no assurance that it ever will be?

Who is paying this bill? How much has been thus far dissipated?

Jack Wilcox,

An Even Break

'Tis said "a miss is as good as a mile," but the close brush with tragedy when 3 autos were caught between the gates at Emerson st. in Mt. Prospect the evening of July 23 must have caused such fright that a weak heart could not have taken it!

We were in the line-up off the tracks following the arrival of the northbound 5:30, awaiting a green light, unable to move backward, forward or sideways, and we saw one woman involved on the tracks cross herself and pray.

WE ARE WONDERING why that Chicago-bound train could not have stopped. It began to shriek at its would-be victims the moment the gates went down, and the engineer did slow it to the point where it could be heard to pick up speed again as it left the crossing, but except for the fact one car was able to back off that track onto another, and 2 cars were quickly maneuvered out of the trap by their alert drivers, all 4 people would have been killed!

All this the result, perhaps, of an unfamiliar train schedule due to those extra accommodations offered Arlington race track visitors, when the 5:30 pulled out and the gates rose, but before the traffic had cleared another train rushed through here in the opposite direction.

SURELY THOSE who can afford to spend an afternoon at the track could afford a little more time enroute.

The delay and distress they would have suffered during a momentary stop to allow clearance of that track, would have been as nothing to their inconvenience should there have been a serious accident.

Passengers in those cars are year-round commuters, not race track fans, and entitled to at least an even break with the Chicago and North Western!

Prayers Save Life

The Fence Post is in receipt of a long letter from Guy E. Sampson, who was Bensenville editor of the DuPage County Register during the depression days. He writes in part:

"I have been a shut-in since February 6 of this year. There have been times when I was so weak from the pain my life seemed to hang in the balance and I thought I would leave this life at any moment. Doctors insisted that amputation of my left leg above the knee was the only thing that would save my life. I refused amputation, declaring that it would be contrary to Verses 13 to 16 of Chapter 5 of St. James.

"No one knows how many prayers have ascended to Heaven in my behalf, but they are being answered.

"My doctor says that he now feels certain that amputation will not be necessary.

"'I am disappointed that I will not be able to come east in August to attend the Milwaukee Railroad Veterans' reunion," writes Sampson. "When I settled in Bensenville in 1920, the population was about 500. Some of the happiest days of my life were when I was local editor of the paper and as I read its pages now, I often think of the effort I used to get the businessmen to order a $5 or $10 ad.

"One day while I was at my weakest, I had during the the long afternoon thoughts of what Heaven was going to be like, as I was without a doubt soon to be called from this life. This may seem odd to anyone who has never felt that they were getting close to the end of their earthly life, but brother, it was real to me. I got my pencil and tablet and composed the following verses:"

WHAT WILL HEAVEN BE LIKE?
As I awoke from a deep, deep sleep,
And gazed about my room;
The thoughts of "Eternity" came to me
That won't be forgotten soon.
Just what to me will Heaven be like
When I leave this world of sin,
And stand before my Saviour's face
To receive my rewards from HIM?
Will the little good deed that I have done
Be large enough for me to see
As they are laid before my eyes
In that blessed Eternity?
And will every face I've hoped to see
Be there, in plain sight to me,
And will all the joy I've hoped to see
Be awaiting there for me?
And as these thoughts and a thousand more
Pass swiftly through my mind,
I hear HIM whisper soft and low
"Fear not, each answer Is 'MY WORD' you'll find."
So I'll try and not look too far ahead
But just live from day to day
And then enjoy Heaven more and more
When we all get there to stay.

Try It This Way

The letter from Dishearted Suburbanite concerning lack of friendliness touched my heart. Friendliness has nothing to do with age grouping. As a young bride I moved to the suburbs—in a community of middle-aged and elderly residents. They regarded me as an outsider and the only friendly gesture I received was a casual greeting.

Since that time I have lived in a number of suburbs only to find the same lack of friendliness. People, I have learned, live very much for their own families, relatives, and inner-circle friends. Near neighbors especially dislike to cultivate one another for fear of gossip, criticism and other unpleasant complications which may develop when people have too intimate associations.

It has been my observation that too often neighbors start out being extremely friendly only to end up with hurt feelings over some trivial misunderstanding. After you have lived awhile in your present neighborhood you will observe these kaffee klatchers behaving most distantly to one another, fault-finding and pointing up their neighbors' peculiarities.

I have been in this present location for 2 years—a large subdivision with mostly young married residents. These younger women, quite naturally, are not interested in cultivating an older woman. I would not expect them to be interested in me. And the few older couples are too busy trying to entertain all their relatives and personal friends to bother with lonely neighbors.

Church going as it is today demands activity all week long. Unless one is able to participate in numerous projects onee is quickly set aside as deadwood, not really worth considering. Most older people appreciate a little activity, not to be overwhelmed with it. So, I did not find release from loneliness in church. That is for the joiner personalities.

I have found a certain amount of satisfaction in the casual friendliness that is extended among strangers at places of entertainment. When people are enjoying themselves they seem to be at their very best. I have met the friendliest people at concerts, at the Theatre, at the zoo, at park gatherings of any sort.

Recently I sat next to a dear old couple at a Cinerama performance. During intermission they talked over all their travels with me. I could not have enjoyed their conversation more had we been intimate friends.

There is a delightful enthusiasm among people who are sharing a bit of wholesome pleasure together. This is to know people at their friendliest.

I also find time to read good books, magazines, and listen to worthwhile radio programs. In the summer my garden occupies much of my time and together with household chores I no longer have time to be lonely.

Now, all I ask of others is a friendly smile, and a pleasant greeting. I have accepted the fact that there does not seem to be enough time for people to extend companionship to those outside their own family circle.

Sympathetic Reader.

LAST WEEK'S HEADLINES

Resume of front page news that appeared in various editions of Paddock Publications and other newspapers of the area that will keep readers informed on headline news of their neighbors.

Arlington Heights

Twenty-one downtown business firms last week gave the off-street parking program in Arlington Heights its biggest boost thus far, in the form of a $20,000 donation.

The long-awaited report on the Consumers Co., a preliminary to an injunction suit to force the firm to quit its Northwest hwy. site, is completed. However the village board has not yet authorized legal action.

Mt. Prospect

A delegation of property owners has requested annexation of the area bounded by Rte. 83, Golf rd., Busse rd. and Dempster rd. A portion of the area is already included in a proposed city in Elk Grove township and according to one report, cannot now withdraw from the city.

The village board enthusiastically went on record in favor of the proposed rerouting of Rte. 83 away from the center of Mt. Prospect.

Prospect Heights

Sunday the sale of bonds to finance a community swimming pool got under way. The drive will end July 28.

As a result of the state's spring inspection of the school, full recognition has been withheld from Prospect Heights. The state called the action a "warning" that certain situations, mainly overlarge classes, need to be corrected.

Des Plaines

The Chicago Northwestern railway has agreed to rebuild the road's burned-out depot at Cumberland station.

Police Chief Jack Wigham has closed some police department records to the press and public. He claims open police books aid ambulance chasers.

Street Improvements

A $340,000 street repair program is in the formative stage in Libertyville. It calls for the black-top resurfacing of about 20 miles of improved streets within the village. The work is expected to be spread over a 10 year period.

A Satisfied Customer is our First Consideration

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

from Patty McArdle

Dear Peg:

The only difference, as far as I can see, between the famous skyline of New York City and our own Chicago's is that New York has more of it. The beauty and grandeur of the two are the same. What view of any city is more thrilling than the one you have of the Michigan avenue buildings, when you reach that point on the "outer drive," after crossing the river but before Randolph Street. Between two quite sharp turns, for a short distance you are driving west and looking straight into the broad faces of magnificent buildings which seem to be growing skyward right out of the pavement. Beyond these giants of stone, towers, peaks and flat top skyscrapers intermingle.

As you watch the picture before you, you're aware of a deep stillness which seems to hang in the air like cigarette smoke in a closed room—it's the same awesome silence you feel when you see from the rim of the Grand Canyon the plateaus and chasms sprawling out in front of you, or when you stand in a forest of massive redwoods whose stately trunks, towering upward, seem to be holding up the sky.

A new outline was recently added to our skyline—a structure of unusual beauty and spectacular size. It was to this building that Megan, Bridget and I made a trip. When you step into the 150 foot long lobby of the Prudential building, you could easily imagine yourself in the lobby of a lovely hotel. The walls are vermilion pink granite from the Laurentian Mountains in Canada and the ceiling is Dutch metal leaf. The floor is Terrazzo marble. It has, besides offices, shops, restaurant, bar, etc., a 1,000 seat auditorium for meetings and exhibitions with a public address system and movie projection.

THE ENTIRE BUILDING is air conditioned with the air being filtered to remove dust and dirt. In case you wonder how they wash the outsides of the windows in this 41 story building (601 feet high—highest in Chicago!), the windows are vertically pivoted so that they may be reversed for washing on the inside. There are 27 passenger elevators—those used for the top floors are the fastest in the world (1,400 feet per minute).

From the observation deck of the Prudential Building the panorama of Chicago, and the states surrounding it, can be seen as never before.

On exceptionally clear days not only Chicago, but Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin can be seen! It is the kind of view you get nowhere else except from an airplane rising to its flight altitude. It is inspiring at any hour—the colors and sweep of Lake Michigan, the towering skyscrapers of the boulevard and street lights at night . . . It is worth a trip to Chicago just to see the view from the observation deck of the Prudential Building.

My love,
Patty.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

THE AUTOMOBILE will never take the place of the horse. And at the moment, I am glad. I have a grudge against any form of gasoline engine. They are inventions of the devil and only idiots of the first water would wish to own one. This stand will put me in a rather small minority of one, but so be it.

It all started with the family's peculiar notion that cars are sort of like wine. The older they grow, the better they are. On wine it might work. On the gasoline engine, I am not yet convinced.

I KNEW that the family chariot was not well, but I didn't expect it to throw up all over the street. It was almost indecent the way it took on. Steam came not only from the radiator but out of the exhaust pipe too. This gave me the feeling of driving a two way street cleaner.

So, being of a very mechanical turn of mind, if not of hand, I opened up the hood in an efficient manner and took a look at its insides. They were all there but vibrating pitifully. Then it started to putt putt, gasped and died a horrible death.

BEING A BRAVE little car, if not too young, it started again when I pushed the right thingamabob and coughed and spit its way into the filling station. I bought it a whole new set of spark plugs because the term spark plug has such a merry sound and I thought it would feel better with brand new spark.

Well, it not only felt worse but now races over the countryside hacking along at five miles per hour. This, even for me, is not quite fast enough. I can't spend 3 hours a day going to the store.

SO, I AM GOING to get a horse. Either a ride horse or one that will pull something. It can pull the your big ideas.

Be Sure To Add Phosphate Or Potash For Good Legumes

Results from the legume crop at the Newton Soil Experiment Field in southern Illinois show what you can expect if you fail to supply either phosphate or potash when your soil needs both in addition to nitrogen.

C. M. Linsley, soils extension specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, reports that the soil in the Newton field originally tested strongly acid and low in both phosphorus and potassium. Limestone, in that case, was not enough.

EVEN THOUGH limestone corrects soil acidity and supplies plenty of calcium, it cannot do much good unless you supply the other things the soil needs. In this case it is both potash and phosphate. Potash in addition to lime gives a slight increase in yield over lime alone and increases the amount of clover in the mixture. Rock phosphate in addition to lime also increases yield to some extent and produces more clover in the mixture.

One or two of these materials will not do the job if the other plant food element is lacking. But when we supply all the plant food the soil needs to produce good legumes and grasses — that is, plenty of limestone, rock phosphate and potash — then we get the kind of crop we need for soil improvement and for high quality feed.

THE SAMPLES of legume and grass shown above were harvested from the Newton soil experiment field by H. J. Snider. The figures below show the yields from the various treatments.

There is no need to guess at what treatment your soil needs for good stands and high yields of legumes and grasses. Soil test for lime, phosphorus, and potassium will tell not only where these materials are needed, but now much of each is needed. Every farmer in the state can get his soil tested at the county soil testing laboratories. (Fm

Water Drilling Tricky Business

Drilling wells is tricky business because the results are often unpredictable and conditions vary in each locality, says P. R. Shaffer, professor of geology.

Dry wells do not necessarily mean that the permanent ground water level is dropping in your area. Your well may be in contact with a perched water table or some other restricted water supply which cannot refill as fast as the water is being used.

IN ORDER to pump water the year 'round, a well must have a large enough reservoir of ground water to insure a supply, even during long periods of sparse rainfall. To maintain this underground reservoir, it must have a means of supply or recharging. If it is not able to refill, says Shaffer, it is like pumping water out of a cistern.

A farm well's reservoir may be either above the bedrock or actually in the bedrock, Shaffer pointed out. In either case an artesian well may exist, where water is under pressure and the water in the well rises above the point of contact.

If the well is in the unconsolidated material or mantel above the bedrock, it will be supplied by ground water. Factors such as rate of rainfall, surface slope, amount of vegetation, and porosity of surface materials control the amount of rain that will become available ground water.

Test drilling is the most reliable method for determing subsurface conditions. The samples obtained will indicate the conditions that exist. Sand and gravel deposits, for example, are often excellent reservoirs for ground water. Samples from your present well may provide helpful information.

EVERY SUPPLY of ground water is limited to some extent, and certain steps may be necessary to insure a continuous, adequate supply of water. First, adopt water-saving practices, especially during dry periods, to reduce the burden on a limited water supply. It may also be necessary to locate additional sources of supply. Such wells may recharge a dwindling supply. Finally a log of existing wells and information concerning their behavior will be of great value in insuring top efficiency and productivity.

Both the state geological survey and the state water survey have information for many localities in the state. (Fm

Aberdeen-Angus Show In St. Louis Aug. 8, 9

Plans are now complete for the ninth American Aberdeen-Angus Futurity—the annual showing of breed aristocrats— which for the first time will be held at St. Louis, Missouri, August 8 and 9.

The Angus Futurity opens the 1956 Fair and Show season for cattle breeders, giving them their first opportunity of the year to compete within the breed for the coveted trophies.

The main events at a Futurity are the selection of a grand champion female, a grand champion bull, and the supreme champion of the show, following elimination contests through various classes. There are 354 purebred Angus cattle entered in the 1956 show. They will compete in 14 classes, and in addition there will be two first time exhibitors' classes, and one group class competing for the Freeman Keyes trophy which goes to the best bull and female by one sire.

The total premium money will be more than $18,500, the largest offered to Angus cattle breeders anywhere in the country. Twenty trophies will also be given. The propgram begins at 8 a.m. on Wednesday, August 8. (FM

Man-Made Fibers Are Good, But Need Care

Since each man-made fiber has its own characteristics, Florence King, University of Illinois textiles and clothing instructor, advises you to carefully follow manufacturer's directions for laundering such fabrics.

However, Miss King suggests some laundering rules that apply generally to all man-made fiber fabrics.

PERHAPS ONE of the most important is always to use a mild detergent. Before washing, brush excessively soiled areas with a detergent solution.

A water temperature of 110 degrees to 120 degrees F. is best for most white and colorfast materials. If in doubt, it's better to use a low temperature than a high one. Keep washing periods short.

Always wash in clean water. Man-made fibers tend to pick up dirt particles in water that are impossible to wash out.

IF YOU MUST use bleach on a resin-finished fabric, a mild perborate bleach is better than a harsh clorine bleach. Resin absorbs chlorine, causing the fabric to become yellow and weak.

Usually you won't have to starch man-made fiber fabrics.

Wrinkles set in these fabrics easily, so don't wring them by hand or machine. Instead, press excess moisture out gently in a towel. To prevent wrinkles from setting, keep the dryer spin time short.

If you have to iron the garments, use a "warm," "rayon" or "synthetic" setting. (Fm

Tomatoes Helped If You Know Insects, Diseases

Insects and diseases needn't destroy your tomatoes if your recognize them and know how to control them, says Norman Oebker, University of Illinois horticulture specialist.

Some general control practices include selecting disease-free seed, (certified seed), treating the seed and planting in disease-free soil, giving the seedbed good ventilation, using only healthy transplants and rotating crops.

Keep out of the field when the plants are wet. Also, if you want good tomatoes, watch for the first signs of diseases and insects.

DDT spray or dust controls such insects as flea beetles, hornworms, fruitworms, corn earworms, Colorado potato beetles and white flies. A nicotine spray or dust controls aphids or plant lice.

SOME OF THE NEW tomato varieties, such as Manualucie, Boone, Kokomo and Brookston, are immune to fusarium wilt.

Seed treatment and soil sterilization help to prevent diseases like damping off that occur during early growth. To control bacterial canker, rotate crops and use clean disease-free seed.

Extreme variations in the water supply of growing tomato plants may cause blossom-end rot. A uniform water supply will prevent it. (Fm

Good Grass Water Ways Require Planning, Care

There's more to building a good grass waterway than sowing some seed in a "draw" in a field, says Richard D. Black, University of Illinois agricultural engineer.

Improperly constructed waterway channels either erode along the sides or "silt in." Silting eventually makes the channel too small to carry the water so that gullying starts along the edge of the waterway. That makes the waterway useless.

REBUILDING a damaged waterway often costs more than the original cost of one that is properly constructed. That's because gullies must be filled and leveled before the new waterway can be built.

Even the best waterways require regular fertilizing and mowing to keep them at top effiency. Black suggests mowing at least twice a year. Long grass in the waterway may cause silting that eventually leads to overflow, then gullying, along the sides.

NEVER PLOW or cultivate an established waterway, Black warns. This weakens the sod; then gullies develop. Using the waterway for a road or fire lane also may cause gullies to develop and ruin the waterway.

For help in planning and maintaining a waterway, see County Farm Adviser Carl Mees. (Fm

Soybean Meeting To Emphasize Exported Soybeans From Farms

Export markets for soybeans and soybean products will get a big play at the 36th annual meeting of the American soybean association to be held on the University of Illinois Campus August 13 through 15.

That's a preliminary report from J. L. Cartter, head of the S. Regional Soybean Laboratory in Urbana and chairman of the arrangements committee.

The convention is being held in conjunction with the annual business meeting of the National Soybean Processors Association. All sessions will be in the Illini Union at Urbana.

Several men who have had recent first-hand contact with the export markets in Asia and Japan will be on the program. They include George M. Strayer, Hudson, Iowa, executive vice president of the American soybean association; Ersel Walley, Ft. Wayne, Ind.; and Marion Hartz, Stuttgart, Ark. (Fm

New Help For Home Grown Lumber Users

A new small homes council circular is ready to help you select the right lumber for your needs.

Although this 8-page booklet is written primarily for persons buying lumber at lumber yards, it also includes information of value to persons using their own lumber, according to Farm Adviser Carl F. Mees.

Just knowing lumber terms will help you choose the right lumber for your needs Mees says.

THE AUTHOR, C. S. Walters, forest products research specialist at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says that "many persons describe their needs in words which, to a dealer, mean lumber in excess of the grade actually needed. One of the lower grades might serve just as well at less cost."

The circular discusses how grain, defects and moisture content affect the quality and strength of wood.

You can get a single copy of "Selecting Lumber" free from the Small Homes Council, University of Illinois, Urbana, until September 1. After that date it will be 10 cents a copy, the same price as 27 other circulars for home owners and builders that are issued by the council. (Fm

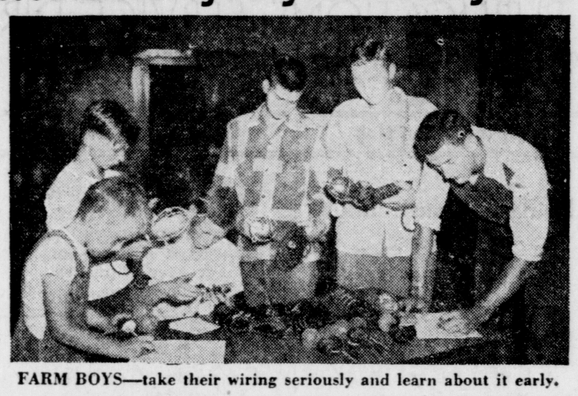
Electrical Load? What's That.... It's Basic to Figuring Your Wiring Needs



FARM BOYS—take their wiring seriously and learn about it early.

By IRA MILLER
Farm Electrification Bureau

Electrical load is a 2-word term that means a lot to some farmers; less to others and very little to many. It's important, though, and should be understood because of its close relationship to a farmer's wiring problems.

It means the amount of electricity used by your electric equipment.

Electrical load is figured in watts. The number of watts which your equipment needs to operate efficiently, plus the distance between the location of that equipment and the main electrical distribution point, guides your electrician in installing the right size of wire and service equipment (fuse or circuit breaker) on the farmstead and in your buildings. When you modernize your wiring, it is good business to get a job somewhat larger than that needed to handle the electric equipment you have now. If you're like most of us you'll add some equipment later that you never thought of having, including electric devices which aren't yet on the market. A few spare circuits and a huskier-than-needed-now wiring system will cost very little extra and will save you money later.

Now, let's look at the electrical load in a typical farm building—a larger than average combination laying and brooder house. It may include lighting, time switches, brooders, ventilation equipment, automatic feeder and waters, water warmers, egg cooler, egg candler and grader. This equipment could add up to 50,000 watts. If it does, it will take a 3-wire, 120/240 volt, 100 ampere service. When infra-red brooding is used, the service equipment might be as large as 200 amperes.

Farmers with flocks of around 400 birds may need only a controlled lighting system and some type of brooder. In such cases, service entrance equipment may a minimum of 30 amperes. A 3-wire, 120/240 volt service, however, still is recommended.

Since ventilation equipment is so important to poultrymen, it is well to know that fans operated by motors of less than 1/3 horsepower may be wired on the convenience outlet circuit. If they are controlled from a central switch, however, a separate circuit will be needed for them. All equipment with motors of ½ horsepower and larger should be operated on 230 volts. Wire used in the building should not be smaller than No. 12.

DOWN ON THE FARM

with Your Farm Adviser

CARL F. MEES

Bond seeding with fertilizer may help you to get better early growth and stand, but it won't do the job of finishing the crop like a good, old fashioned broadcast application of limestone, phosphate and potash.

If you want to know how much limestone phosphate and potash you need, why don't you run a soil test? After small grain harvest is an ideal time to test your field. It is also a convenient time to apply the materials. After making the applications, give the field a once-over disking to mix the limestone and phosphate with the soil.

We run soil tests on gardens and lawns for those who have even a small plot. In the fall is a good time for this too.

Poultry

With up-to-date housing and management, you can crowd layers more today than in the past. But they need more nests, roosts, feeders and waterers. Relate your equipment needs to number of birds — not to size of house.

House your pullets before they reach 10 per cent production. You can move old hens to temporary houses, such as old sheds or range shelters. With careful handling and good management, you can market large, high-quality eggs from your old hens at a time when premiums are greatest.

Safety

Falls are the main cause of home and farm accidents, and 26 per cent of them occur in the home. Falls injure people of all ages but especially those in the younger and older age groups. They account for about 40 per cent of the accidents to children under five. Children 5 to 13 years old usually fall while playing; those from 14 to 24 years of age during recreational activities; and older people, on porch steps, stairs, haymows and slippery ice. So whoever you are or wherever you may be — watch your step.

Don't increase your vacation driving hazards by overloading or improperly loading your car. Here are a few points to keep in mind: Don't block your side or rear vision; distribute the load evenly so that your car will be properly balanced. Remember, a heavily loaded car is harder to stop, so make extra allowance for stopping distances. Be sure to include a first-aid kit with your vacation supplies. (Fm

IAA Demands Soil Bank Pay Changes

The Illinois Agricultural association is asking the United States department of agriculture to change the system used for figuring soil bank payments for corn in south central and southern Illinois.

Otto Steffey, IAA president, requested the action because he said the present USDA system is penalizing farmers in these areas because they suffered a drouth in 1952, 1953 and 1954.

Steffey explained the situation this way:

THE USDA formula for establishing average corn yields per acre covered the years 1952, 1953 and 1954, when drouth caused low corn yields in south central and southern Illinois.

But he charged the abnormal drouth year conditions were not given adequate consideration by the USDA when it devised its formula for figuring the average yields on which soil bank payments are based.

"This results in substantially lower soil bank payments to farmers in these areas, which is unfair," Steffey said.

"THE SYSTEM for determining average yields per acre should make more allowance for abnormal weather conditions," the IAA leader stated.

He said the IAA is urging USDA officials to correct this inequity by revising the average yields for counties in the areas affected by the drouth. (FM

Beat The Week End Rush

You'll marvel at the sheer beauty and charm of this modern, clean, like new 3 bedroom ranch. Located just a few short blocks from schools and shopping on a lovely, large, fully landscaped lot in a new and constantly improving neighborhood. This home has spacious cabinets, kitchen, car-port, and gas heat. Broken hearted owner forced to sacrifice all this plus aluminum combination storms and screens, water softener, washer, dryer, deep freezer, built in dishwasher for an appreciative buyer. Take over his G. I loan or buy on contract.

$18,500

A discriminating buyer will recognize the quality and workmanship embodied in this massive new 3 bedroom ranch. He will see and appreciate the beautiful birch cabinets in the lovely large kitchen, the size of the rooms, the full basement, the gleaming natural redwood exterior, the improved large lot and wonder how this all is possible for only

Death Notices

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of our son, Milan, who passed away 14 years ago July 28.
Our beloved boy is gone
His voice we loved is stilled
A place is vacant in our hearts
Which never can be filled.
Loving Mother & Father,
Brother and Grandfather

IN MEMORY

In loving memory of my husband Smith-Dean W. Smith. God took you home 5 years ago July 17. With memories of you forever until we meet again, may your soul rest in peace dear Dean.
Loving wife, Gertrude.

IN MEMORIAM

Richard Benhart who passed away July 29, 1951.
The flowers we placed upon your grave
May wither and decay
But love for you who sleeps beneath
Will never fade away.

Pep Up Summer Days With Glamorous Ice Cream Dishes

Glamorous ice cream dishes pep up a warm summer afternoon or evening.

Mrs. Pearl Z. Janssen, University of Illinois food instructor, suggests some ice cream desserts that are sure to bring compliments with every bite.

The whole family will go for a "make-your-own" sundae dessert. Put balls of different ice creams on a tray, and let each person choose his favorite flavors. Put out different sauces — perhaps fudge, butterscotch and frozen berry.

A WEALTH of good eating can be yours with mock bisque. Whip one pint of vanilla ice cream until soft. Add one-half cup of crushed graham crackers and onehalf teaspoon of almond extract to the ice cream and refreeze. This amount will serve 3 or 4 people.

For jiffy desserts or snacks for unexpected guests, roll ice cream balls in chopped nuts. Store in the freezer until ready to serve.

Youngsters will like this gay colored dessert: Fill parfait glasses with two kinds of ice cream with a sherbet layer in between. Top with whipped cream and fruit. The sherbet flavor will go through the dessert.

Ice-cream filled cream puffs complete many a summer meal in fine style. Make tiny cream puffs and fill with 2 or 3 kinds of ice cream. Use 3 or 4 for a serving, and top with chocolate sauce and serve.

BUTTERSCOTCH or fudge shortcakes are easy to make. Split a cupcake in half. Put ice cream between the layers and on top. Top with fudge or butterscotch sauce, whipped cream and toasted almonds.

Ice cream pies are synonomous with good summer eating. Try using 2 or 3 kinds of ice cream on a chocolate-coconut crust, and top with whipped cream.
